LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Progress and Playing for the Flag

Anyone that has been involved in the marketing, organizing and, in any way, selling this often maddening sport the Brits once baptized Association Football has, at one time or another, been asked the proverbial half-pregnant question: So when is soccer finally gonna make it in the US? (the question is essentially the same north of the border).

Back in the glory days of the NASL - yes, there were some, quite a few actually - the fashionable thing was to call soccer "the sport of the eighties." It did not happen of course. Nor did it in the nineties. A lot has changed, however, since the turn of the century and it appears we may finally be headed in that direction. Unfortunately, since I won't be around for most of this century, it will be somebody else's PR conundrum.

One of the moments that made me realize the sport was making it was a little thing that happened this winter... the US Men's National Team strike. I think the argument can be made that soccer must have made it if its best can go on strike.

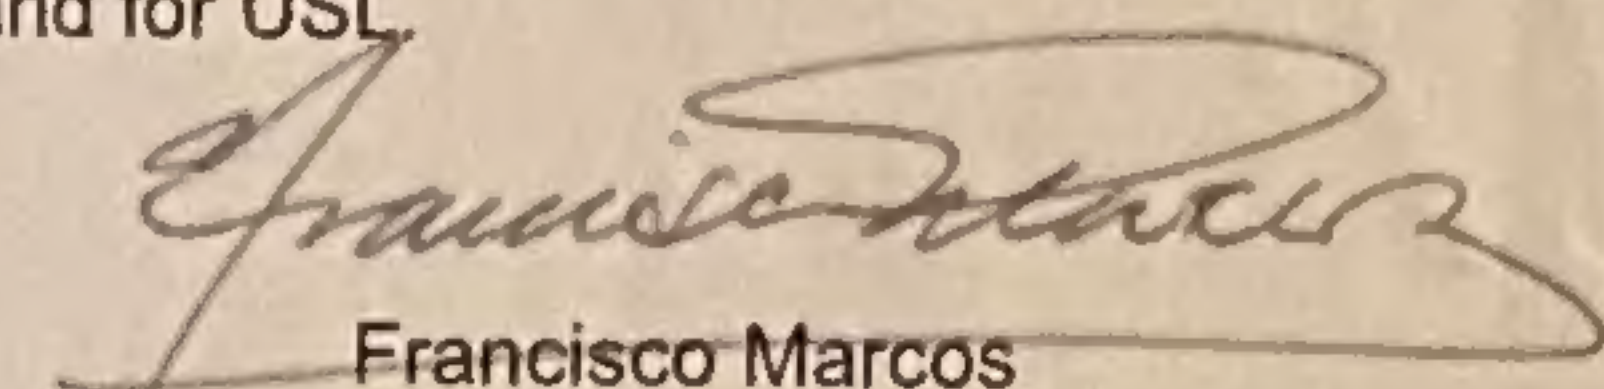

Fortunately, soccer's guys thought twice, or blinked, and avoided the crash that could have been. Let me not be hypocritical - the strike was and could have been a great PR moment for USL. Never in my wildest imagination in 1986 could I envision the day when USL could be the 'strike force' that would get called to perhaps save the day; or at least try. But, that's what happened; and I actually think we might have held our own against T&T with our USLers wearing the stars and stripes. It would have been a lot of fun. That really is another story, although let me register here my heartfelt gratitude to those 22 USLers - patriots and mercenaries.

We have come a long way in the last 20 years. I remember a lot of people, good people, including my great friend, coach and mentor Al Miller, once gathering 16 rag-tag guys at JFK, giving each their own equipment bag, and off to Italy they went, no training, no money, and two days later, being on the receiving end of 10-0 result. That's only 20 years ago in a sport that's been around for over 100 years, and many of you know similar stories.

As I travel thru Europe and attend games twice a week, domestic and international, I can say without any qualification that the first question I get asked about American players is almost exclusively in reference with the national team - not to diminish the significant contribution of MLS and of course our own USL, but it really is a matter and apples and oranges. Wear the Red, White and Blue and you will travel far.

I make no apologies for a fairly narrow view of the soccer world I live in. I lived through Euro 2004 in Portugal and saw what the Portuguese team's success in reaching the final did socially in bringing together an often-fragmented society more worried about the price of diesel than the problems of overgrown, often spoiled, juvenile millionaire soccer players - not that they complained too much because there was indeed gold at the end of that rainbow.

For our current and future stars: keep your feet firmly on the ground, it might make it easier to reach real stars. To our USLers, thanks again for the contribution of playing for the flag and for USL.

Founder and President, USL

MARCOS: FOUNDER & PRESIDENT

Francisco Marcos is the founder, and has served as President of United Soccer Leagues since the organization's inception in 1986. A 1968 graduate of Hartwick College, he played on nationally-ranked teams under coaches David Haase and Al Miller. During his time at Hartwick, Marcos was the editor of the school newspaper, started the Empire State Soccer League and launched the magazine Soccer Monthly, which eventually became the official magazine of the U.S. Soccer Federation.

In 1968, Marcos accompanied Hartwick's team on a European tour. The idea of taking American teams to Europe evolved into a full-time business for the young entrepreneur, who founded American International Sports Exchange, the first American company to develop soccer tours for teams in the United States. Through the company, Marcos established a network of international soccer contacts that would serve him throughout his career marketing the game in North America. Many prominent college and professional coaches in the USA got their first real taste of international soccer under the auspices of Marcos' tours.

Between 1974 and 1984, Marcos spent 10 years in the professional game with the North American Soccer League (NASL), prior to starting what would become today's USL. He spent eight years with the Tampa Bay Rowdies, at the time one of the shining success stories of the NASL. With the Rowdies, he was director of public relations and vice president of soccer operations. He started a cooperative agreement between the Rowdies and Brazilian powerhouse Sao Paulo, began a series of games sponsored by Pan American Airlines in cooperation with the Ft. Lauderdale Strikers, played host to a weekly radio show and also did color commentary on television. Under his tutelage the Tampa Bay Area's youth soccer organization would blossom into the Florida Youth Soccer Association.

Marcos joined the NASL's Dallas Tornado in 1978, where he was vice president of player personnel, the first person to hold such a position in the NASL. In between the Tampa Bay and Dallas stints, he helped start the NASL franchise in Calgary, the Boomers, before moving towards his soccer vision -- a group of national leagues covering the majority of the United States.

The seeds of today's USL were sown in 1986 when Marcos founded the South-west Indoor Soccer League (SISL), which played host to the first national indoor amateur and youth tournaments. The league system would evolve from there until it would become the first comprehensive system of development in the USA and Canada, encompassing three levels of senior men's play, the first national women's league, (W-League) and the first competitive North American system of youth leagues (Super Y-League).

Born in Portugal, Marcos is fluent in five languages. He is a fanatical soccer fan as well, and has the match tickets to prove it. He has attended nine consecutive World Cups since 1970 either as a fan, journalist or part of an official delegation. In 1994, he was World Cup USA's official team liaison for Brazil's National Team. He has served as head of delegations for US National Teams at the 1999 U20 FIFA World Championships in Nigeria and in Argentina in 2001.

Recognized by his peers as one of the key movers and shakers in the game, he serves or has served on the board of directors of U.S. Soccer, the U.S. Soccer Foundation, the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA), the US Soccer Governing task force, and in 2005 was recognized with a letter of commendation by the NSCAA. He was inducted into Hartwick College's Hall of Fame in 2001, and into USL's own Hall of Fame in 2002.

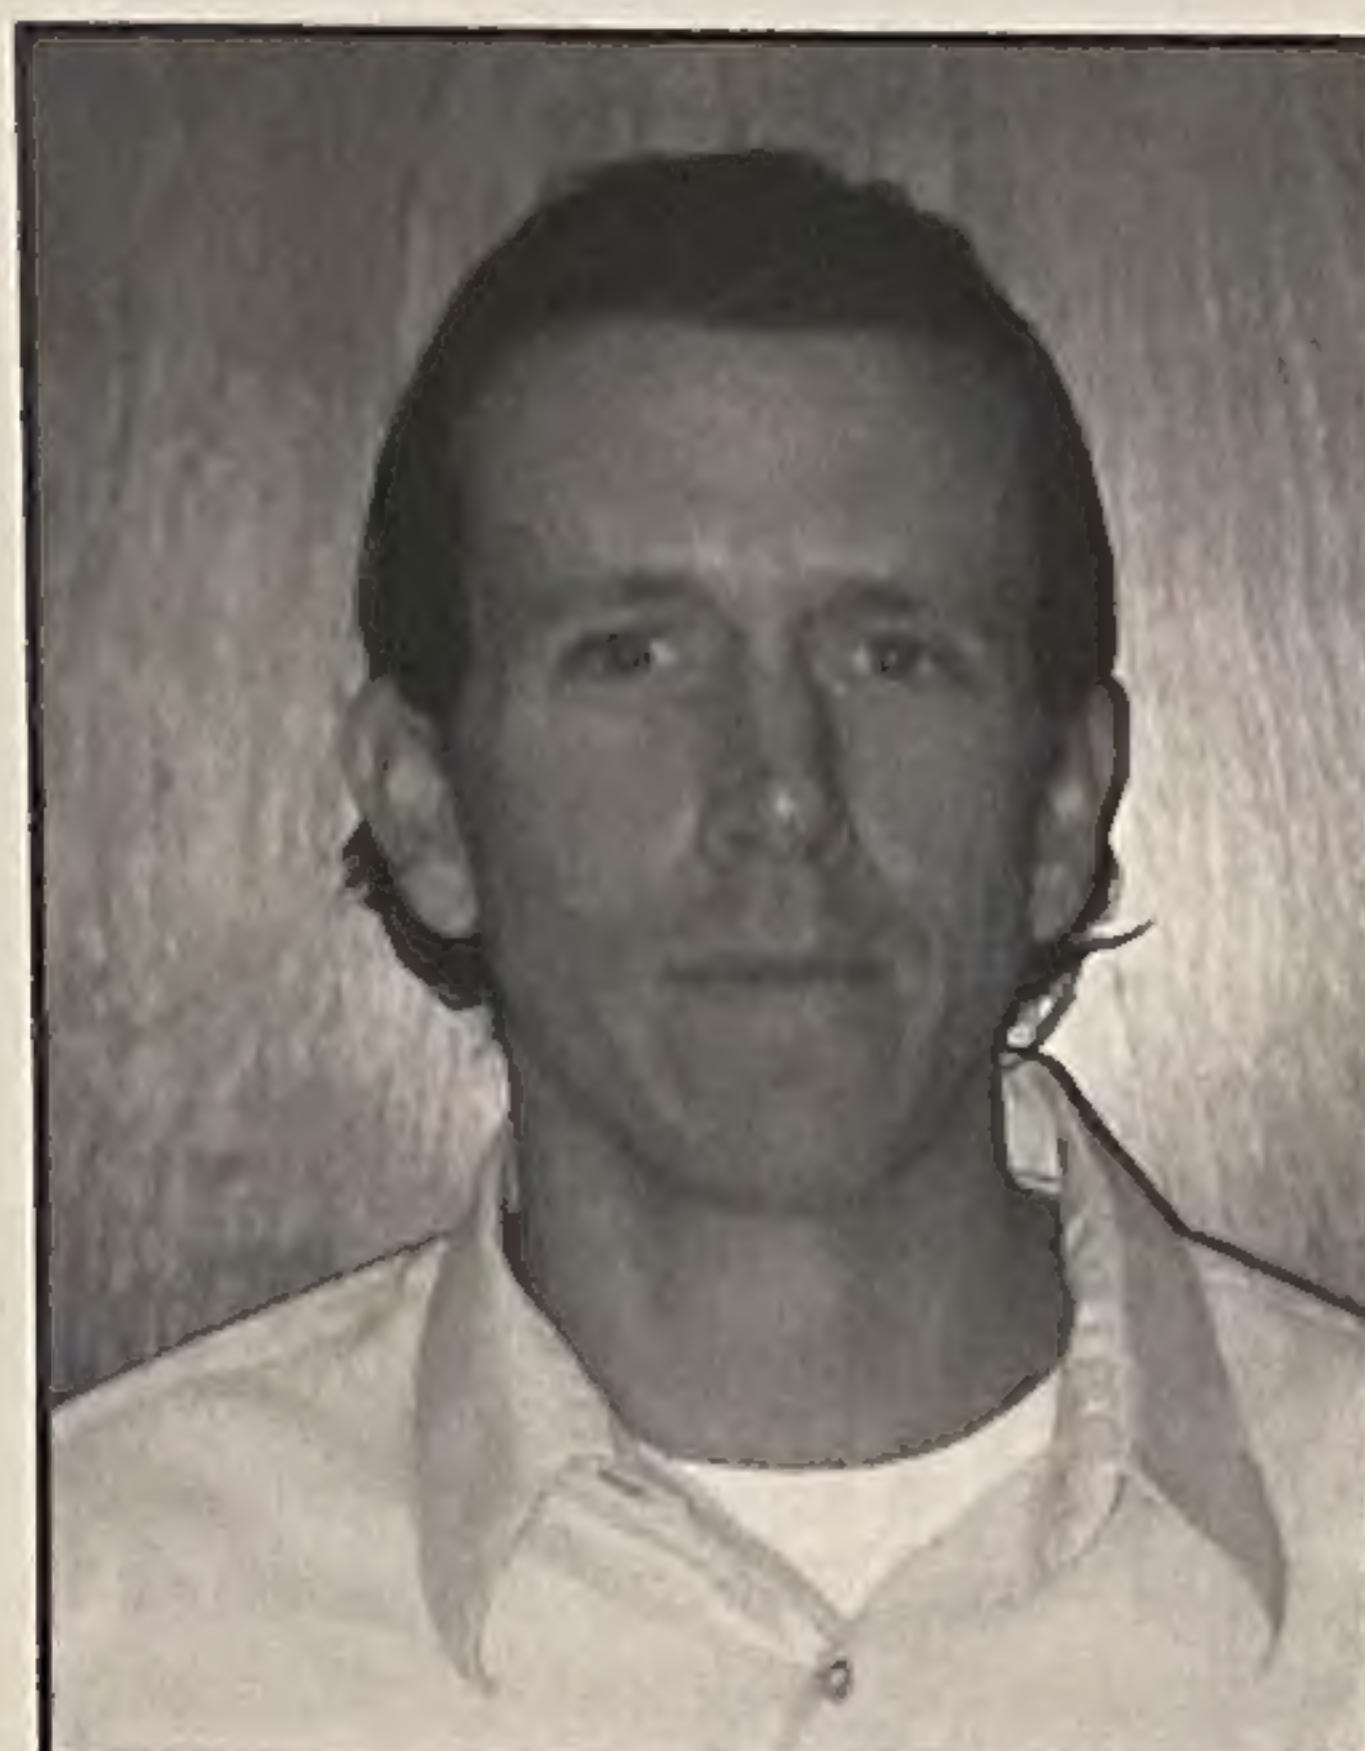

He now splits his time between the USA and Portugal, where his family -- wife Beverly, and children Julian and Amy -- reside, and where he attends every possible match of his boyhood team, Sporting Club of Portugal.

TIM HOLT - VICE PRESIDENT

Appointed Vice President in October of 2004, Tim Holt joined USL as Director, A-League Operations in April 1999 and added the responsibility of overseeing the operations of all USL senior leagues in November of 2002. He was also instrumental in the launch and operation of the Super Y-League in its inaugural season.

His numerous responsibilities include the day-to-day management of USL staff, developing and implementing the strategic plan for all USL leagues, supervision of compliance with league regulations and policies, franchise relations, and communication with the leadership of the US, Canadian, and Puerto Rican Soccer Federations.

Holt has served on the US Soccer Federation Board of Directors since 2003, is the Men's Professional Representative on the NSCAA Board of Directors, and has been a member of the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup Disciplinary Committee since 2000. In 2000 and 2003, he was the recipient of the USL Employee of the Year award.

Holt graduated With Distinction from Penn State University in 1994 with a BS in Management, where he competed for the Nittany Lions as a freshman. He went on to earn his Masters Degree in Sport Administration at Florida State University in 1998, while serving as the Coordinator for the International Soccer School at Florida State. He also worked in the Academic Support branch of the Seminoles' Athletic Department. He and his wife Sara, who welcomed their first child in March 2005, presently reside in the Tampa suburb of Land O'Lakes.

Dear USL Media, Fans and Teams:

With the conclusion of each USL season blending into the beginning of the next, it becomes challenging to allot the proper time to reflect on the progress of our organization. In assuming the role of Vice President this past year, my first item of business was to work with our talented staff in taking a full inventory of where we have been and where we are in order for us to make the important decisions related to where we intend to be in the future. It was during this recent exercise it struck me just how dramatic the development of our leagues and franchises has been on and off the field over the past decade.

Most striking has been the growth of our developmental leagues – the PDL, W-League and Super Y-League. The concept of elite national youth and adult amateur leagues was considered to be unworkable and actively resisted by the "old guard" when first presented to the North American soccer community. Today, the PDL and W-League represent over 80% of current USL senior franchises with the 2005 edition of the Super Y-League boasting greater than 700 of the best youth teams in the United States & Canada. PDL and Super Y-League alumni are prevalent within the professional game domestically and internationally and the W-League is again North America's, and arguably, the world's top league for women.

While our developmental leagues continue to flourish, the USL Professional Division has experienced an off-season makeover which features greater connectivity, single-table standings, and some of the best soccer rivalries in North America, bringing us even closer to the international flavor of the game.

Speaking to our fans & supporters, we sincerely appreciate the tremendous passion and continued support at all levels of USL. Once again in 2004, over 1 million fans passed through our turnstiles, not to mention the thousands which tuned in weekly to watch USL action on Fox Soccer Channel. While our owners continue to invest in the development of facilities and programs to ensure the longevity of their clubs, they are also working to find new ways to attract fans to the game by actively involving themselves in their respective communities. Our players truly are "hometown heroes" helping USL to achieve its mission of providing affordable family entertainment while developing the game at all levels through the United States, Canada, and the Caribbean.

Perhaps the most exciting trend in USL is the burgeoning number of our senior franchises which are vertically integrating their soccer clubs through the addition of competitive youth development programs. Numerous franchises now field professional, amateur, and youth teams under their brand name. This increased focus on full club development is clearly the model for the present and the future in terms of making the sport work as a business, as well as providing local players the opportunity to develop within a single soccer organization from youth to professional.

I represent the entire USL Staff when stating we are looking forward to another season of exciting soccer and intend to work very hard on behalf of our teams and fans to make this happen. The League Office staff is always accessible via the "About USL" link at USLsoccer.com to listen to the thoughts/ideas of anyone (media, fans, etc.) who attends our games in an effort to continue to improve our product. Thank you in advance for your support of USL competitions and your passion for the world's game.

Tim Holt
Vice President, USL

UMBRO / USLSOCCER.COM

Umbro, one of the world's leading international brands of soccer uniforms, footwear, equipment and soccer-related apparel, is the proud sponsor and official equipment supplier of United Soccer Leagues.

Founded in 1924, Umbro has through the years built a strong reputation as supplier to the world's best soccer teams and leading grass roots sponsor of the game in the United States. Umbro and its double diamond logo are recognized on all seven continents, in the sport's largest arenas, which are home to the world's greatest soccer teams.

Umbro's vast knowledge of the equipment needs of soccer players, its commitment to excellence, and its dedication to producing the very best soccer products, are major factors in the company's emergence as a complete soccer resource and one of the leading soccer apparel companies in the United States.

Meeting the global demands of the world's most popular game is no small task. Facing up to the challenge, Umbro's global management team is structured so that it may take advantage of the sport's most influential sources around the world.

Utilizing four major hubs in the United States, England, Brazil and the Far East (Hong Kong), the company is structured as a multi-national organization, a key to making an impact on a truly international sport.

Umbro's knowledge of what it takes to play soccer, along with its long association with the world's best players, has positively influenced the company's ability to produce high-performance soccer products.

For example, Umbro pioneered super lightweight footwear when it produced the Speciali, perhaps the world's lightest soccer shoe, the current footwear of choice for key top players throughout the World.

Well-positioned as a technological leader, Umbro has also been highly successful in spearheading soccer performance fabrics for match play and training sessions. Umbro uniforms are built with superior moisture transportation qualities, making them equally comfortable in autumn weather, when most of the world plays soccer, to the hot, humid environments that surround the World Cup.

Umbro was the first company to take fabric made from recycled materials and put it on the professional playing field.

Today, Umbro's leadership position is evidenced by its No. 1 position in key markets with key product categories. Umbro soccer products are in constant demand by professional and top amateur players around the world.

The name Umbro is derived from the original name of the business - Humphreys Brothers. In 1924, Harold and Wallace Humphreys started their company with $50 in capital, two sewing machines, a slot-knife cutter and a delivery motorcycle.

2004 Season Review

A Year of Impact and Surprise

In its final season under the A-League moniker, the USL First Division saw the Montreal Impact win the second men's championship on behalf of Canada 10 years after winning the club's first in Montreal. The USL Second Division Utah Blitz went out in fine fashion by capturing the Pro Soccer League title before making way for Major League Soccer's expansion franchise, Real Salt Lake.

Despite the departure of former A-League Coach of the Year Bob Lilley, the Impact picked up right where they left off under new skipper and former star player Nick DeSantis, who calmly guided the team to its second straight season as the second best team through the regular season with a 17-6-5 mark. The club broke several team and league records on the season with 19 shutouts in 28 games, 16 from Greg Sutton, who became just the fourth goalkeeper in league history to be named Most Valuable Player, second since 1990. Teammate Gabe Gervais won his second consecutive Defender of the Year honor.

Montreal's dominance continued into the postseason, where they opened with three consecutive shutouts, downing Rochester twice 1-0 and Syracuse 2-0. A 1-1 tie against Syracuse in the second leg sent the club to its second final, where they recorded their fourth shutout in five postseason games to beat the Seattle Sounders 2-0.

Seattle, meanwhile, finished fourth in their conference during the season with a 13-11-4 record. The team fell behind to the regular season champion Portland Timbers in the opening leg of the playoffs 2-1 only to rebound on a pair of Welton Melo goals to tie the series and win in series overtime, knocking out the league's top offense led by Rookie of the Year Alan Gordon and Coach of the Year Bobby Howe. They then took a 1-0 lead into Vancouver and advanced to the league final with a 1-1 draw.

The biggest surprise of the year was the performance of the defending champion Charleston Battery, who struggled throughout the season and finished fourth from the bottom. There was a silver lining, however, in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup. The club opened with a 2-0 win over the Wilmington Hammerheads in the Third Round and upset MLS' MetroStars 1-0 in the Fourth Round to advance to the Quarterfinals.

The Minnesota Thunder, Richmond Kickers and Rochester Raging Rhinos joined Charleston in the final eight. Minnesota followed a 2-1 overtime Third Round win over the eventual Premier Development League Finalist Boulder Rapids Reserve with a Fourth Round 1-0 upset over MLS' Los Angeles Galaxy. The Richmond Kickers also needed overtime in the Third Round to down the two-time defending PDL champion Cape Cod Crusaders 2-1 before registering an upset against DC United 2-1.

Charleston edged Rochester 1-0 to be the only non-MLS team in the semifinals while the Kickers were nipped 1-0 by the Chicago Fire and the Thunder were knocked out in penalty kicks 5-4 after a 2-2 draw with the San Jose Earthquakes. Charleston took the Fire to overtime in their semifinal game before falling 1-0.

A tournament that was kind to the USL Second Division the year before with the Wilmington Hammerheads reaching the semifinals was cruel in 2004 with only Wilmington and Utah advancing from their opening Second Round games before falling to USL First Division sides.

The 2004 season was an exciting affair for the USL Second Division, however, as the red-hot Pittsburgh Riverhounds picked up where they left off in the USL First Division in 2003. New coach Ricardo Iribarren led the '03 squad to nine wins in their last 10 games and just missed the post-season. The Riverhounds dominated the USL Second Division in 2004 with a 17-2-1 record, eight points better than second-place Charlotte. The 'Hounds trounced the expansion Harrisburg City Islanders, who did well in their inaugural campaign with a 10-7-3 record. Pittsburgh sailed through on a 7-1 aggregate scoreline in the first round to advance to the semifinals. Their potent offense, however, was unable to penetrate the Blitz's league-leading defense, falling 1-0 in Salt Lake City in the semifinals.

On the other side of the bracket, the league's top offense in Charlotte got caught in a slugfest with the defending champion Hammerheads, finishing in a 2-2 tie in the first leg and winning the second at home 3-2 for a 5-4 series win. Sixth-seeded New Hampshire surprisingly kept the scoring to a minimum in the semifinals, falling 1-0 to the Eagles.

The Eagles saw another shootout in the championship game, literally, as a 2-2 draw against the Blitz was sent to penalty kicks after 30 minutes of overtime. Utah, who rallied from a two-goal deficit in the game, came from behind once again in the shootout as well to capture the league title in the sixth round 5-4.

Charlotte's Jacob Coggins was named the league's Most Valuable Player. In his fourth year with the club, the Charlotte native was a runaway leader in points (50) and goals (20), finishing 15 points clear of Westchester's Evaud Thompson and five goals ahead of Thompson and Pittsburgh's Said Ali. In his 19 games played, Coggins also finished tied for the league lead in assists with teammate Dustin Swinehart, who had led the club in scoring the last five seasons.

2005 Season Preview

New Look, Heightened Excitement

United Soccer League's professional leagues saw some major changes over the offseason with the A-League and Pro Soccer League coming together into a new two-tier professional division under the new names USL First Division and USL Second Division.

The 12-team USL First Division and nine-team USL Second Division will each be playing in a single table in 2005, facing every team in their respective leagues home and away with additional matches against local rivals to complete the respective 28- and 20-game schedules.

the championship match over the last five years with the 2001 Rochester Raging Rhinos being the only team to return to the title game. With parity and the new single table format, the defending champion Montreal Impact and finalists Seattle Sounders will have a difficult road ahead of them in their campaigns to finish at the top.

Looking to return to their glory, the three-time league champion Rhinos made a coaching switch from the team's only head coach since its founding in 1996, USL Hall of Famer Pat Ercoli, to Laurie Calloway, who coached in the league the previous two seasons with Syracuse.

Others looking for a coaching change to take them to the championship are the Charleston Battery, Toronto Lynx and Vancouver Whitecaps. A year after winning the title, Charleston struggled and is now looking to longtime assistant Mike Anhaeuser to return to powerhouse status. The Whitecaps landed former USL First Division Coach of the Year Bob Lilley, who laid the groundwork for Montreal's run to the championship last year under first-year head coach Nick DeSantis. The Lynx named Toronto native Hubert Busby Jr. head coach.

Joining Seattle as recent finalists trying to get back for a shot at the title are the Minnesota Thunder and Richmond Kickers.

The five teams not to have played in the final over the past five years are the Atlanta Silverbacks, second-year Puerto Rico Islanders, Toronto, Virginia Beach and the 2004 regular season champion Portland Timbers, who return under the guidance of 2004 Coach of the Year Bobby Howe.

The lone professional expansion team in USL will be the Cincinnati Kings of the USL Second Division. The Kings will be led by former pro players JT Roberts and John Pickup as general manager and coach, respectively.

The 2004 USL Second Division regular season champion Pittsburgh Riverhounds and finalists Charlotte Eagles will be the expected frontrunners again in 2005 with the champion Utah Blitz making way for the Major League Soccer expansion team Real Salt Lake.

Pittsburgh ran all over its competition last season with a 17-2-1 record while the Eagles were the league's top offensive team with 53 goals.

The 2003 champion Wilmington Hammerheads will undoubtedly contest for a third appearance in the final in four years.

The rest of the USL Second Division is completely up for grabs as the expansion Harrisburg City Islanders took advantage of an off year from the 2002 champion Long Island Rough Riders to reach the playoffs last year and the Western Mass Pioneers and New Hampshire Phantoms hovered around .500.

2004 Season in Review

Kraze outdo champs and two unbeatens

The two-time defending champion Cape Cod Crusaders and the unbeaten South Jersey Barons and Chicago Fire Reserves saw their championship hopes come undone in the postseason as has become tradition in the Premier Development League. Rising into the spotlight were the Central Florida Kraze.

Entering the PDL postseason as one of the favorites has become a curse with the top seeds typically falling in the conference playoffs. The Barons and Fire Reserves became the fourth and fifth teams in USL amateur outdoor history to go unbeaten over the course of the season. Unfortunately, they were unable to break the tradition of the unbeatens suffering their first defeat in the playoffs.

The Fire Reserves dominated the Heartland Division and the Central Conference, which has arguably been the most competitive conference over the last five years, with an astonishing 17-0-1 record, outscoring their opponents 73-7. Looking for a return to the final where they lost 2-0 to Cape Cod the year before, the Fire Reserves won their playoff opener only to be edged out 1-0 in overtime by 2002 finalist Boulder Rapids Reserve.

South Jersey finished unbeaten playing in the division of the defending two-time league champion Crusaders to take the regular season Eastern Conference title with a 14-0-4 record. Like Chicago, the Barons advanced to the conference final, but needed overtime to down the Williamsburg Legacy 2-1. The 11-6-1 Mid Atlantic Division champion Carolina Dynamo, however, derailed South Jersey 3-2 to move on to the semis, where they would be knocked out by the Kraze 2-1 in a penalty kick tiebreaker following a 1-1 draw.

After winning two consecutive titles as the second-place team from the Northeast Division, the Crusaders stuck with what works for them. Looking to rise from beneath the shadow of the unbeaten Barons in the postseason, the Crusaders finally suffered their first playoff loss in nine games against Carolina, 3-2.

Despite being the fourth seed, Central Florida's championship run was a bit of surprise as the club's 14-3-1 record was greatly overshadowed by the scoring exploits of the Mid South's 15-3-0 El Paso Patriots and 14-4-0 DFW Tornados. El Paso finished second in the league with 64 goals with Scoring Champion Julio Frias battling DFW's Lourenzo Andrade throughout the campaign for the league lead. The Kraze surprised DFW 4-2 in the first round while the Patriots became the fifth regular season conference champion to lose their playoff opener in the last three years.

Similar to the Kraze, the sixth-seeded Rapids Reserve were not expected to outshine division foe Chicago in the other half of the bracket, but knocked off perennial power Michigan Bucks 3-2 to open the playoffs before nipping the Fire Reserves for the conference title. Boulder then dispatched of the Western Conference's Fresno Fuego by a surprising 3-0 scoreline in the semifinals to advance to the championship game.

In a rain-soaked finale, the championship game came down to the final minutes in Orlando. Scoreless and seemingly destined for overtime, Central Florida's Orville Mullings set up the winning goal with a shot that deflected off a defender and found its way past the outstretched goalkeeper to Justin Cook, who put the loose ball away two minutes from time for the 1-0 win. Boulder, who had a spectacular year, saw their hopes dashed for the second time in three years.

USL PDL

In addition to their run to the championship game, the Rapids Reserve also made their mark in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup as one of four PDL teams to advance to the Third Round of the tournament. They opened the tournament with a 2-1 win over the USASA's Chico Rooks and advanced past the then USL Second Division's San Diego Gauchos 5-4 on penalty kicks after a scoreless draw in the Second Round before falling 2-1 in overtime to the USL First Division's Minnesota Thunder.

Carolina, Cape Cod and Chicago also reached the Third Round with wins over higher division opponents in the Second Round. Carolina knocked off former USL Second Division rival Charlotte Eagles 4-3 in the Second Round and fell 3-2 in overtime to the Atlanta Silverbacks in the Third Round. The Crusaders notched a 3-2 win over the USL Second Division's Western Mass Pioneers before also falling in overtime, 1-0, to the Richmond Kickers in the Third Round. Chicago thumped the USL Second Division's New Hampshire Phantoms and made it a sweep of one-goal decisions in a 1-0 loss to Rochester Raging Rhinos.

Elite Rising from Parity

With collegiate players moving on to the professional ranks over the years, the Premier Development League had formed a level of parity that leaves the playoff composition in quite a bit of doubt going into every year. Over the last couple seasons, however, a number of clubs have risen from the pitfalls of player turnover to become playoff regulars.

Six teams have reached the playoffs each of the last three years. Among the group are the Cape Cod Crusaders, who won back-to-back titles in 2002 and 2003 and the 2003 finalist Chicago Fire Reserves, the only team to have reached the playoffs each of the past four years.

Also on the list of current three-timers are the Cascade Surge, Michigan Bucks, Spokane Shadow and Williamsburg Legacy. The one constant among these six clubs seems to be the ability to find young players who develop into stars after the club's top players move on as professionals.

That said, it does not mean everyone else should just pack it in. The lottery-style success seems to come to a few teams every year. Relatively unknown Central Florida Kraze come from obscurity to win the PDL title last year while the expansion New Orleans Shell Shockers won the 2003 regular season title and the previously mentioned Crusaders won the league title as the second-place Northeast Division side in its first playoff appearance in the PDL.

Caught in between are the Boulder Rapids Reserve, who have reached the final two of the last three years, but have been unable to find the consistency to guarantee their spot in the playoffs. Part of Boulder's difficulty could be due, in part, to the extremely competitive nature of the Central Conference, which usually sees at least one powerhouse miss the postseason. The Des Moines Menace, for instance, reached the playoffs the three previous years with a combined record of 38-12-6 powered by an unbeaten 2002 campaign only to come up four points short behind Chicago and Boulder in 2004.

Among the stories leading off the season will be the regular season unbeaten streaks of the Fire Reserves and South Jersey Barons, who finished the 2004 season as the fourth and fifth teams in USL amateur outdoor history to go unbeaten.

The expansion Bakersfield Brigade, Springfield Storm and Ottawa Fury will be joined by former professional sides California Gold, San Diego Gauchos and Westchester Flames, who won the PDL title in 2001 before moving up to USL Second Division.

2004 Season Review

Whitecaps finally win the title

Three consecutive one-loss seasons came to disappointing ends for the Vancouver Whitecaps leading into 2004. The Whitecaps responded by refusing to lose at all in 2004, running the table with an unbeaten 13-0-1 record en route to the playoffs and the W-League Championship, becoming the first Canadian team to win a W-League title and the first to win a senior league championship since the Montreal Impact won the A-League in 1994.

Despite entering the playoffs unbeaten, the Whitecaps had a daunting task in front of them to reverse their postseason fortunes.

Their first test was the Seattle Sounders, who handed them their only blemish on the year with a 2-2 draw early in the campaign and knocked the Whitecaps from the playoffs in 2003 via penalty kicks. Vancouver dispatched of their rivals with a narrow 1-0 victory to advance to the W-League Championship in Ottawa, Ontario, where they were joined by fellow unbeaten New Jersey Wildcats (14-0-0) and Chicago Cobras (12-0-1) as well as the host Ottawa Fury, who boasted a 13-1-0 record.

The Wildcats were the lone team to finish the season with a perfect record, outscoring their opposition 76-5 on the year while Ottawa was second in the league in scoring with 68 goals. For New Jersey, it was a complete turnaround from a 7-7-0 campaign in 2003 while Ottawa had reached the semifinals the year before. New Jersey downed 2001 and 2002 champion Boston Renegades 2-0 in the conference semifinals and captured the Eastern Conference title in a 6-5 thriller against the Montreal Xtreme.

The Chicago Cobras, who were not as dominant by the numbers, used three consecutive overtime games to close out the season, including a season finale draw, as preparation for the playoffs, where they edged division rival Fort Wayne Fever 3-2 in the division final and the Charlotte Lady Eagles 2-1 in overtime in the conference final.

At the W-League Championship weekend, the Whitecaps advanced from the semifinals with a narrow 2-1 win over the Cobras and the Wildcats edged the host side 2-1 on a pair of goals from French National Team star and league scoring champion Marinette Pichon.

With a championship showdown between two of the top three scoring teams, amazingly, defense took charge as the match went scoreless through 120 minutes and required penalty kicks to decide a winner. In the end, it was Vancouver goalkeeper Erin McLeod scoring the winning shot from the mark to give the Whitecaps the championship 4-2 in the tiebreaker.

W-League Alumni Win Gold in Athens

Eleven former W-League players helped lead the US Women's National Team to a gold medal finish at the 2004 Olympics in Athens, Greece with Brandi Chastain, Julie Foudy, Kristine Lilly and Briana Scurry earning their third Olympic medals, second gold.

In all, seven former W-League players amassed 11 goals and six assists with former Boston Renegade Shannon Boxx finding the back of the net twice and former New Jersey Wildcat Heather O'Reilly tallying one. Julie Foudy (Sacramento) registered an assist in the tournament.

W-League Alumni on Gold Medal Roster

Shannon Boxx (Boston Renegades 1999)
Brandi Chastain (Sacramento Storm 1997)
Julie Foudy (Sacramento Storm 1997)
Angela Hucles (Hampton Roads Piranhas 2000)
Kristine Lilly (Delaware Genies 1998)

2005 Season Preview

New Mark of Excellence

If 2004 did anything, it established unbeaten records as the mark of excellence in the W-League as three teams accomplished the feat en route to Championship weekend.

Last season was arguably the most astonishing in league history with their performances. There are no indications 2005 will be any different.

2004 finalists New Jersey and Vancouver will undoubtedly be the frontrunners going into 2005, re-signing many of their players.

The 2003 champion Hampton Roads Piranhas are loading up once again with some of the top international talent like Mercy Akide, Florence Omagbemi and Kelly Golebiowski.

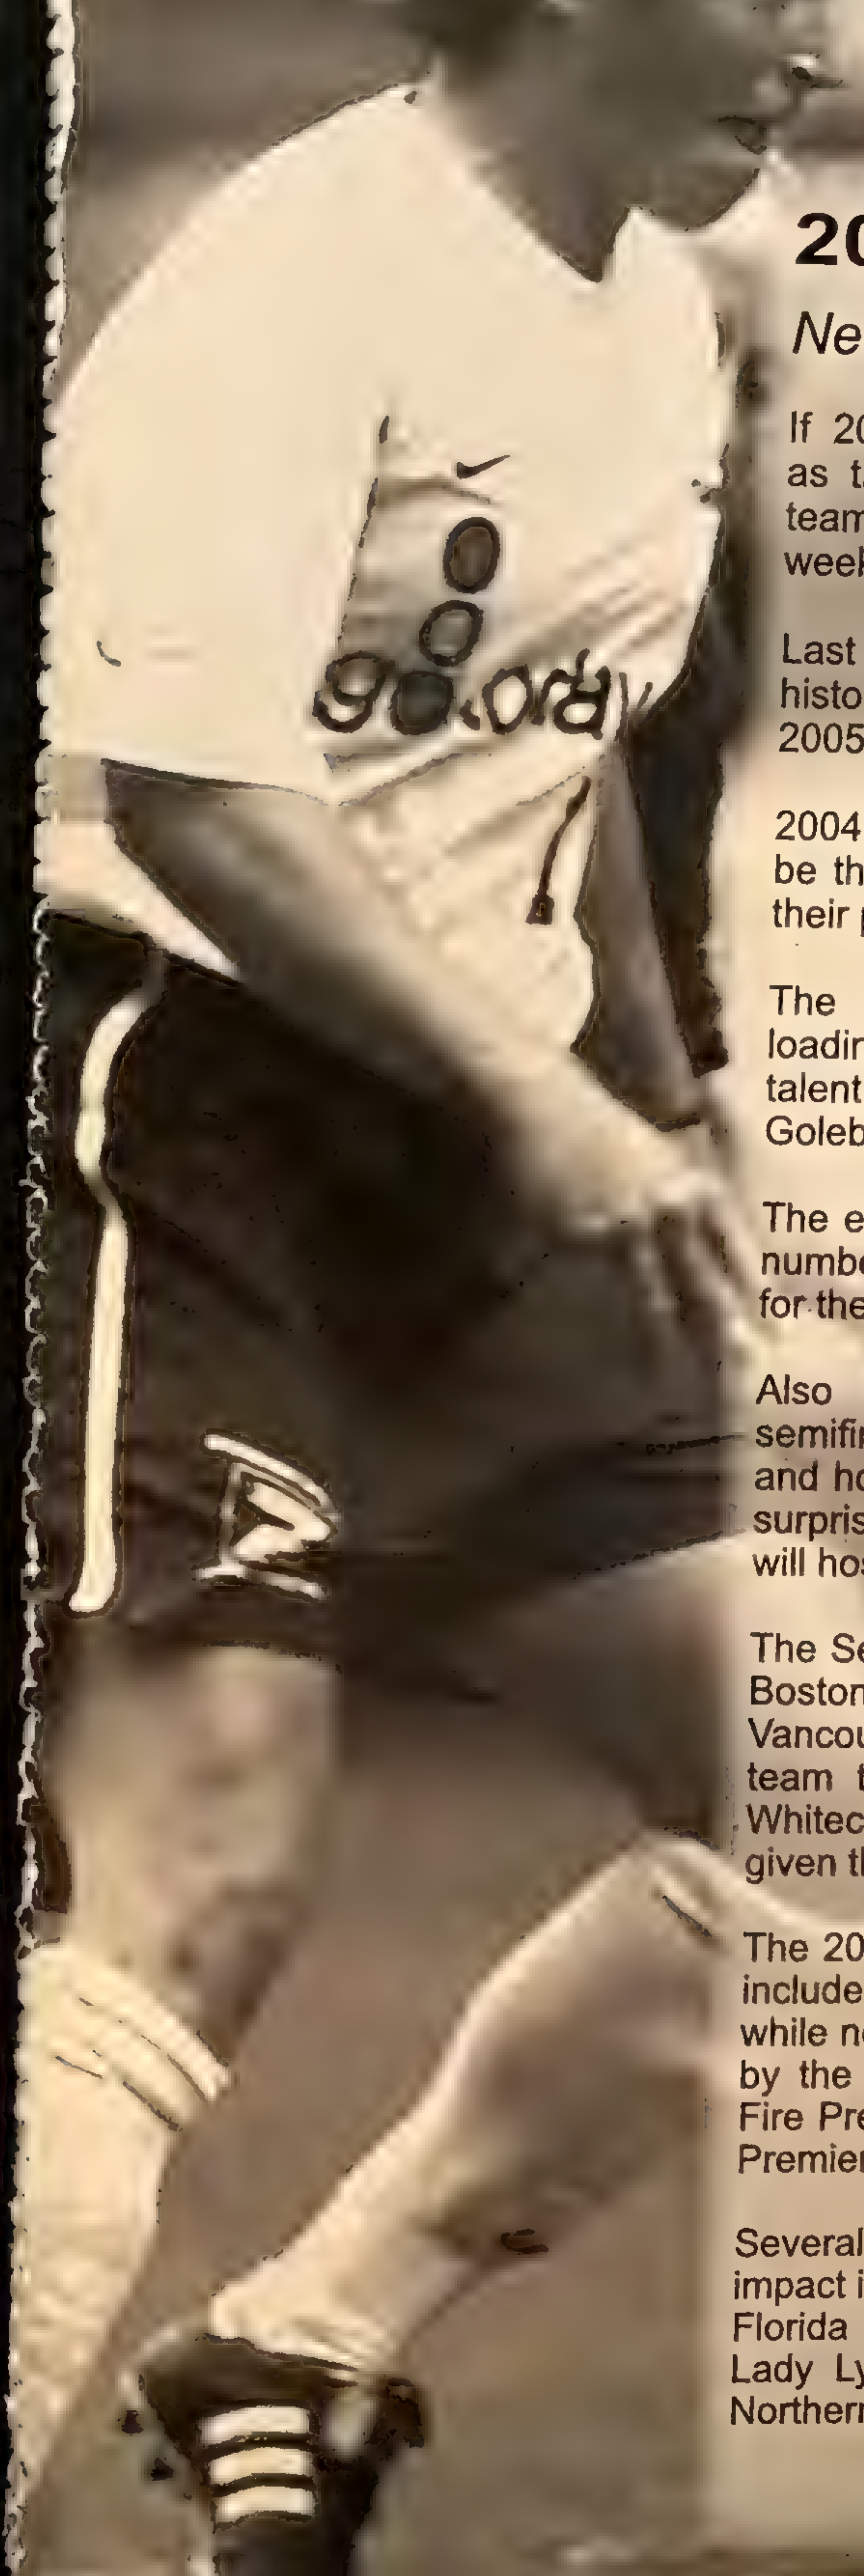

The expansion Atlanta Silverbacks are stocking up on a number of former WUSA players, many of whom played for the two-time finalist Atlanta Beat.

Also among the frontrunners will be the two-time semifinalist Ottawa Fury, who finished 13-1-0 in 2004 and hosted the W-League Championship after making a surprising run to the semis the year before. The Wildcats will host the championship weekend in 2005.

The Seattle Sounders and the 2001 and 2002 champion Boston Renegades are regular contenders. As a rival to Vancouver, the Sounders are the lone Western Conference team that has consistently seen success against the Whitecaps and the Renegades can never be counted out given their past success.

The 2004 semifinalist Cobras, a team with a history that includes four finals appearances and one championship while never missing the playoffs, will be replaced in 2005 by the Chicago Gaels, the sister team of the Chicago Fire Premier. The Fire Premier have dominated the USL Premier Development League the past four years.

Several new franchises will look to make an immediate impact in the league. The Atlanta Silverbacks and Central Florida Krush join the Atlantic Division while the Toronto Lady Lynx and San Diego Gauchos will debut in the Northern Division and Western Conference, respectively.

SUPER Y-LEAGUE

Super Y-League Continues to Grow

Player Development and Identification programs still top priority

Time has flown by since the founding of the Super Y-League in 1999. Over that six-year span the league has grown exponentially and made strides in improving the player development and identification systems in North America.

The SYL has grown from 25 teams in its inaugural season to well over 700 across the US and Canada heading into the 2005 season. Many of the clubs participating in the league are now affiliated with the top professional and amateur men's and women's sides of USL and Major League Soccer, providing a true pyramid of development that nearly mirrors those abroad.

In the first few years, the league was primarily a vehicle for the top players to come together and face higher level competition at a regional and/or national level on a regular weekly basis until the league finally was awarded the ability to conduct official Olympic Development Program events and programs.

"Over the past five years the Super Y-League has had remarkable success in aiding the development of the game," said SYL Director Matt Weibe. "The opportunities that have been brought to players, such as ODP status, have brought new ideas to progress the game forward."

The SYL Finals were the first step in the implementation of ODP status. Making the finals an official scouting event for identifying players for national team pools was just a starting point however.

"We set our mission with one purpose in mind, and that was to have a league for the top clubs and players in the US," said Weibe. "The difference between the SYL and other youth organizations is that our principals are based off of high-level soccer. We don't have any interest in getting involved with recreational soccer. This is a big reason why we have developed such good partnerships with clubs that share the same vision."

Part of that mission has been to impress upon the senior clubs in North America the importance of playing a significant role in player development. Many professional teams in the US and Canada have used the league to begin their process of establishing academy programs that link the player development system from youth to pro.

The league also has a number of established youth clubs that have no affiliation with senior professional or amateur teams. The league has given these clubs the opportunity to grow, something that could not have been done prior to the SYL because many of these clubs were playing under the rules of recreational governing bodies.

USL has encouraged a number of youth clubs to establish Premier Development League and W-League clubs to continue the development of their players beyond 18 and through college. CASL in Raleigh, North Carolina has seen great success in doing so with their PDL team doing well in its first three seasons in the league. This season the Cleveland Internationals head into their second season in the USL system in both the PDL and W-League.

"We still have a long way to go to become a high-level soccer nation," said Weibe. "The main goal is to have a system that goes top to bottom, which provides players the opportunity to compete at the highest levels of the game. This is what the Super Y-League will do for this system and the development of players."

Teenage American girl makes history in Portugal

The international Portuguese-North American Women's Player Development Program spearheaded by United Soccer Leagues in March is beginning to see dividends with Julia Demetrius of the Carolina Dynamo Soccer Club recently becoming the first player to earn an international cap with the Portuguese Women's Youth National Team through the program.

Demetrius entered as a substitute at left wing in the first two games of the UEFA European Women's Under-19 Championship against Finland and Serbia-Montenegro. In the third game, however, she earned her first start and her solid performance against Slovakia helped Portugal qualify for the first time for the upcoming Second Qualifying Round of the event April 25-May 1, 2005. Portugal is in Group 7 with Belgium, Israel and Scotland, who rank 27th, 30th and 69th at the senior Women's National Team level to Portugal's 34th. Demetrius has been invited to participate in the Second Qualifying Round.

"I think the program's a really good idea to allow US girls the opportunity to play at the international level," said Demetrius. "When was I ever gonna get the chance to go to Portugal and play for the national team?"

The process of joining Portugal's Youth National Team program for Demetrius began when she made a strong showing at an ELAS (Elite Luso-American Select) sponsored tryout in Southeastern Massachusetts in August, 2004. In attendance at that event was Portuguese Women's National Team Assistant Coach Monica Jorge.

In early September, the 16-year old Super Y-League player for Greensboro Dynamo, coached by Joe Brown, received and accepted an invitation for a tryout in Portugal where she was selected by Women's National Team Coach Jose Augusto to play with the U19 Portuguese Women's Youth National Team in three games of the First Qualifying Round of the UEFA European Women's Under-19 Championship held in late September and early October in the semi-arid, wine-growing District of Guarda in Northeastern Portugal near the border with Spain.

"It was very different from playing club soccer," she said about playing at the international level. "I was really nervous, but they all made me feel good. It was exciting starting the final game. It was a must-win situation."

Demetrius was thrown right into the mix, training her first day in Portugal and earning her first cap a few days later. Despite learning Portuguese as her first language from her mother as a child, she was rusty. Her teammates welcomed her, however, with open arms and a few of the girls on the team who spoke English assisted her in learning the native soccer terminology.

FIFA rules allow players under the age of 23 who qualify for national team eligibility in multiple federations to play with those federations at the youth level without locking them to any specific federation until they have played with one federation's senior team. Qualification is determined utilizing the heritage of the player, their parents and grandparents.

"I am delighted to see this coming to fruition," said USL President Francisco Marcos. "I firmly believed when we started this at the beginning of the year that it would be an excellent vehicle for player development at the international level and look forward to this expanding not only for Portugal, but for other nations such as Ireland, Poland, Italy and the ones they will be playing in the next round."

While Demetrius' journey began in August, the program was launched in early March when Marcos and Portuguese National Teams Director Nuno Cristovao announced in Boston the formation of a new international women's player development program for American and Canadian females of Portuguese descent. The pilot program developed was designed to aid other nations in strengthening their women's national team programs utilizing the deep pool of talent available in North America, starting with Marcos' native Portugal and hopefully expanding to other countries in Europe and around the globe.

SYL 2004 NORTH AMERICAN FINALS

Nine Champs Crowned at SYL Finals: Whitecaps go perfect, Chicago Magic win two

The Super Y-League 2004 North American Finals concluded on November 23, 2004. Championship Tuesday saw nine teams crowned as the best in North America. Close competition saw the U13 Vancouver Whitecaps finish as the lone undefeated team to participate in the tournament and the Chicago Magic capture two championships.

The Vancouver Whitecaps U13 Boys squad were one of 19 teams (8 girls, 11 boys) to enter the event with an undefeated record and finished as the lone team to go the distance without dropping a decision, joining Ruckus Soccer's U19 Boys, who won their title in August, as the only teams to go unbeaten for the entire year.

The U14 Girls Concorde Fire were the only other unbeaten to reach Championship Tuesday with a combined record of 11-0-1, but were topped 2-0 by the Cleveland Internationals, who were led by a goal and an assist from Kay Young. Alexandra Dayneka scored the game-winner in the 59th minute.

The Whitecaps, who entered the tournament with a 10-0-0 record, bettered their group play competition in convincing fashion, dispatching of Chesapeake Athletic and host Ajax Orlando by 7-0 scorelines and the 7-1-1 Cape Cod Crusaders 5-1 to move onto the semifinals. The Whitecaps topped the Chicago Magic 2-1 on a pair of goals from the U13 Boys tournament MVP Eanok Yu in the semifinals. Sahil Sandhu scored the opening goal in the championship with Yu providing an insurance tally as the Whitecaps blanked Schulz Academy 2-0 to win the championship.

The Whitecaps nearly won two titles with the U15 Boys also in action on Championship Tuesday. Scoreless late in the game, Charlotte SC's Shotaro Yoshida scored the game-winner in the 74th to capture the championship in a 1-0 match.

The 2-0 scoreline of the U13 Boys final was the largest of the day along with Cleveland's 2-0 win over Concorde in the U14 Girls championship. Five other games were decided by one goal with two others needing penalty kicks to determine a champion.

The Chicago Magic won two of the one-goal decisions and came out on the short of penalties of another as the only club to win two titles or have three teams in the championship games. The Whitecaps, Schulz Academy and Santa Rosa United had two teams in championship games.

The U16 Boys Magic got a goal from Jake Fresinger 12 minutes into the game and held on for a 1-0 win.

It was the other way around in the U17 Boys final, the feature match of the Super Y-League North American Finals Highlight Show to air on Fox Sports World December 4 at 8:00 pm. The 0-0 stalemate was broken in the 80th minute by Brad Ring when he beat a West Kendall defender to get to the right edge of the penalty area and take a shot that deflected off a defender in the box and slip into the goal at the far post.

In another tightly fought affair, the U14 Boys Magic were unable to find the back of the net against Schulz Academy, penalty kicks to decide the winner. Schulz Academy goalkeeper Lyle Dankenbring made a key save in the shootout to help lead his team to a 4-2 win in the tiebreaker.

The other match decided on penalties was the U16 Girls final, which saw a scoreless draw won 4-3 from the mark by Mustang SC over Santa Rosa United. Mustang SC goalkeeper Sarah Axelson made two saves in the shootout to guide her team to the championship.

Santa Rosa also came up just shy in the U15 Girls final, falling 2-1 to Seacoast United. Dariel Bennett set up both Seacoast strikes, finding Mary Kitsis in the 11th minute and Kelsey DeWaele in the 36th for a 2-0 halftime lead. Joan Piasta, on an assist from Angela Chigazola, brought Santa Rosa back within one in the 57th, but it was not enough.

Rounding out the action on Championship Tuesday were the U17 Girls, which saw the (cont'd)

Boston Renegades win 2-1 over FC DELCO on a goal and an assist from Briana Wilson-Byrne. Wilson-Byrne scored the opening marker in the 14th minute for the Renegades only to see the score tied in the 32nd by FC DELCO's Sara Copare on an assist by Mauri Liberati. But just before the end of the half, Wilson-Byrne found Chloe King for the game-winner in the 45th minute.

U19: Cape Cod Crusaders and Ruckus grab first SYL North American championships of 2004

The Cape Cod Lady Crusaders and Ruckus Soccer Men beat out 16 other teams on August 8th to take home championships from the 2004 Super Y-League U19 North American Finals in Chicago, Illinois. Seven teams competed for the first-ever U19 women's title while 11 teams comprised the men's side of the draw.

The U19 Cape Cod Lady Crusaders cruised to the club's first Super Y-League championship and third USL championship overall, coupled with the Crusaders men's squad that captured two consecutive Premier Development League championships in 2002 and 2003.

The Lady Crusaders were dominant, outscoring their opponents 22-5 over the course of five games. The second-seeded squad scored five goals each in their first three matches to reach the semifinals where they met Seacoast United.

Cape Cod continued their dominance, posting a 3-1 win to set up a Championship match-up with Parsippany (NJ) Soccer Club. The two teams had met in the earlier round, with the Lady Crusaders notching a 5-3 win. Parsippany SC won their other match in the first round, earning a trip to the quarterfinals where they defeated the Ottawa Fury 2-0.

Parsippany SC then used an identical 2-0 score to defeat the Northern Virginia Majestics to earn a berth in the title game. In the final match, the Lady Crusaders rang up a 2-0 lead just 21 minutes in and added two more scores in the second half to earn the championship title, 4-0.

On the men's side, Ruckus Soccer of Santa Clara, CA recorded three shutouts in five games on their way to the U19 championship. After a 6-0 drubbing of the Ottawa Fury, Ruckus hung on for a 2-2 tie against the MetroStars.

Once into the knockout rounds, Ruckus defeated the Chicago Magic and Syracuse Salty Dogs by identical 2-0 scores to advance to the title game against Storm Academy out of New Hyde Park, NY. Storm Academy had gone 1-0-1 in the opening round before earning wins over the Cleveland Force Jrs and Toronto Lynx Jrs in the quarterfinals and semifinals respectively to secure their place in the title game.

In the championship match, Ruckus scored first, taking a 1-0 lead into halftime before Storm Academy came back to tie it up at 1-1 in the second half. The Ruckus took home the title when Matt Marques scored off a corner kick in the overtime period to win the match 2-1.

"Winning the North American Finals was a great team effort," said Head Coach Tim Martin. "We beat a team (Storm Academy) that three years ago beat us 3-0 in the Finals in North Carolina. Last year we lost in the semifinals so to win is very satisfying for our team. Hopefully next year we can do it again."

SYL OLYMPIC DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

SYL ODP National Camps

Nearly 400 of the nation's top U13-U15 year old boys gathered in Cocoa, Florida for four Super Y-League Olympic Development Program National Camp weekends that scouted over 1,100 players between January 6 and February 6.

"We introduced these identification camps as the pinnacle of our ODP system, which is based on a season-long evaluation process to identify the players for the camps," said SYL Director Matt Weibe. "The camps were a great success last year and we look forward to providing these elite youth players with the opportunity to display their skills in front of National Staff Coaches."

Players selected from each of the SYL divisions will come together at the Cocoa Expo Center for three days at each camp, playing a series of 40-minute matches and went through several specialized training sessions. Tailored training and evaluations for goalkeepers were also held at the camps.

All levels of the scouting system were present at each camp with the regional SYL scouts on hand with US Soccer's National Staff Coaches and new SYL ODP National Camp Technical Director Perry Van Der Beck. Players were evaluated on their technique, tactics, fitness and psychology and received written reports for feedback on their performances.

An SYL ODP Select Team was selected by the SYL ODP Scouting Coaches in consultation with the USSF National Staff Coaches for each age group following every camp based on the players' camp and season performances.

Attending the first camp was current US U17 National Team Assistant Coach Raul Diaz Arce, who has played professionally in Major League Soccer and USL.

US U17's play at SYL ODP National Camp

The US U17 National Team program participated in the U16-U17 Boys SYL ODP National Camp the weekend of January 28-30.

"We look forward to facing the Super Y-League's ODP selections at the upcoming camp," said US U17 National Team Head Coach John Hackworth before the event, adding, "It will give us a chance to scout the players that have been selected through the Super Y-League's ODP system which rewards the players that consistently perform at the highest level."

The U17 National Team residency program is based in Bradenton, Florida. It competed in two matches against select players from the SYL U17 and U16 ODP National Camps, providing a unique opportunity for the nation's top SYL players to show their talent in direct relation to those in the current US U17 player pool.

"This was a fantastic development for our ODP system," said SYL Director Matt Weibe. "This is exactly the type of integration we felt the ODP system in the US was greatly in need of. The top players in the country throughout the course of a season should have an opportunity to play alongside the current national team pools to better ascertain a player's prospects instead of making an assumption based on a single tryout."

"We have been working very closely with US Soccer on ways to aid the identification of players to US National Team Programs," added Weibe. "We anticipate that the U17 program will identify some players outside of the norm as they prepare the roster for the upcoming FIFA U17 World Championship Qualifiers beginning in April. In addition to the identification, this was an excellent opportunity for the team to prepare themselves with some highly competitive matches."

Super Y-League ODP Select Teams invited to US National Team Camp

1990's and 1989's to compete against US U15 National Team Program in March

Following the Super Y-League Olympic Development Program National Camps, the 1990 and 1989 SYL ODP Select Teams competed against the U15 Boy's US National Team Program. Players reported to the IMG Academy, home of the US U17 Men's National Team, March 3 and competed in matches March 4-6 for further evaluation by US Soccer National Team coaching staff.

"We have been impressed with the Super Y-League ODP system and the quality of players that the US U17 National Team Staff has seen over the past few weeks at the SYL ODP National Camps in Cocoa," said U17 US Youth National Team Head Coach John Hackworth. "The players for the Select Teams the SYL ODP program identified will have an additional opportunity when they play our U15 National team here in Bradenton."

The Super Y-League Olympic Development Program consists of the Super Y-League National ODP Camps and the Super Y-League North American Finals, which are both sanctioned by US Soccer and the United States Olympic Committee. The Super Y-League ODP system is a specifically designed program to identify players for US National Team Programs.

"The main functionality of the ODP system is to identify players for US National Team Programs," said Super Y-League Director Matt Weibe. "This is a fantastic opportunity for each of these players and the US National Team Program."

The coaching staff for the two teams will be Perry Van Der Beck, John Hannan (Chicago Magic) and Al Pastore (Triangle FC). Dan Esmond, Manager of Operations for the Super Y-League, will serve as administration manager for each team.

USL INDOOR HISTORY

The Southwest Indoor Soccer League kicked off in 1986 with much the same vision that USL has today. The intention was to build a small league of teams to serve as a development feeder for the Major Indoor Soccer League.

When looking back, that was the defining moment of USL. It was not the formation of the outdoor league in 1989, but rather, the formation of the idea that for soccer to flourish in North America, it must first be rooted firmly into the ground where the players are still in need of development.

It proved to be a success in the SISL and when the league ventured outdoors it continued to do so.

Despite the continued gains in outdoor membership over the years, the indoor league kept pace as teams and players saw it as the perfect opportunity to play year-round.

The indoor league certainly holds the most history. Not only was it the foundation of USL, but a number of the great highlight stories of teams come from the indoor league, especially in the later years.

There have been a number of instances of multiple championships won by the same team. The first of which is the Oklahoma City Slickers, who picked up two titles several years apart.

But the biggest stories have to be the Atlanta Magic and Baltimore Bays.

Atlanta, after losing to Oklahoma City in the final match of the 1991-92 championship series, reeled off two consecutive perfect seasons en route to becoming the first USL team to capture the coveted and elusive "three-peat."

Atlanta, however, would not be able to gloat for long as the Baltimore Bays came in and stole the spotlight. Although Baltimore was unable to post the perfect seasons, they would go on to win three consecutive championships of their own, picking up right where Atlanta left off in 1994-95.

Those three championships would prove to be the final ones of the I-League for the 20th Century as the league was placed on hiatus by USL.

The Evolution of USL

Allen Clarke
Career History 115
January 15, 2005

Since the demise of the NASL, professional and amateur soccer leagues have come and gone. Only one organization has been around for 20 years - United Soccer Leagues. And 20 years later, we're still going strong. What will this season bring? Imagine the possibilities...

RULES & REGULATIONS

AFFILIATIONS

USL is directly affiliated with the United States Soccer Federation (USSF), United States Adult Soccer Association (USASA), the Canadian Soccer Association (CSA) and the Puerto Rican Football Federation (PRFF).

ROSTERS

USL rosters may consist of a maximum of 26 players, with 18 designated for each game. Each team is permitted a maximum of five (5) foreign players on its active game-day roster and a maximum of seven (7) foreign players on its master roster. In the PDL and W-League, at least three(3) players in a full 26-player roster must be under 19, in accordance with guidelines set by the USASA and USSF. In the PDL, a maximum of eight (8) players may be over the age of 23.

ROSTER FREEZE

Each USL league has a Roster Freeze Date after which no team may register any new players. For 2004, those dates are:

PDL: July 6
W-League: July 6
USL Second Division: July 25
USL First Division: August 1

TRANSFER WINDOWS

From the 2004 season and until further notice, FIFA will not register player transfers that take place outside of the following transfer windows:

United States - USL Transfer Windows
- January 1 until March 31 (the "primary window")
- July 5 until August 5 (the "secondary window")

Canada - USL Transfer Windows
- February 1 until April 30 (the "primary window")
- June 1 until July 31 (the "secondary window")

United States - MLS Transfer Windows
- January 1 until March 31 (the "primary window")
- August 15 until September 15 (the "secondary window")

AMATEUR PLAYER DEFINITION

An amateur player is defined by the following: A player who does not receive payment for playing soccer and who has signed an amateur registration form with U.S. Soccer or Canadian Soccer Association. Amateur players may be reimbursed for certain expenses as allowed by USSF / CSA / NCAA rules.

POINT SYSTEM

The standard FIFA (3-1-0) system awards three points for a regulation or overtime victory. In the case of a tie, each team will be awarded one point.

GAME CLOCK

All games are comprised of 90 minutes (two 45-minute halves).

The PDL and W-League will utilize overtime, two

10-minute periods played in full. The official time will be kept on the field by the referee, with stoppage time displayed by the fourth official. If the overtime period is scoreless, each team will be awarded one point and the game will end as a tie.

LAWS OF THE GAME

USL adheres to all the Laws of the Game as dictated by FIFA, soccer's international governing body.

SUBSTITUTIONS

Five (5) substitutions are allowed per league game with no re-entry permitted in the USL professional leagues and W-League. Six (6) will be allowed in the PDL in 2005. Seven (7) substitutions will be permitted for exhibition games with no re-entry permitted.

STANDINGS TIEBREAKERS

The breaking of ties in the final league standings, playoffs and finals is accomplished by applying the following criteria, listed in order of importance:

- 1) Head-to-head record based on total points in League games.*
- 2) Total wins in League games
- 3) Goal difference in League games.
- 4) Goals scored in League games.
- 5) Total points within smallest grouping. If number of games is unequal, then point percentage will be used.
- 6) Ranking based on points earned against top four group finishers. This tiebreaker will not be used if four or less teams comprise the group. If number of games is unequal, then point percentage applies.
- 7) Point percentage outside/smallest division or conference in League games
- 8) Total points in all regular season and Open Cup Qualifying games combined. If number of games is unequal, then point percentage applies.
- 9) FIFA Fair Play - Team with fewest disciplinary points in League games. (If number of games is unequal, points will be divided by games played to arrive at a common basis for comparison.)
- 10) Lottery conducted by USL at League office.

League games: refers solely to games that count towards the regular season standings. Open Cup qualifying specific games are NOT "League games" when it comes to determining placement in the League standings. (When utilizing these criteria to determine tiebreakers for Open Cup groups, "League games" should be interpreted as all games that count toward the Open Cup group standings.)

* Should more than two teams involved have played each other an UNEQUAL number of times, this tiebreaker will be skipped.

Group: term used to describe the primary unit in which a team competes (i.e. PDL - Southwest Division)

Point Percentage: number of total points earned / maximum possible points (3 per game)

SCHEDULES

USL First Division: Each USL First Division team plays 28 games during the regular season. Each team will face everyone in the league home and away with additional matches versus regional rivals.

USL Second Division: Each team plays 20 games during the regular season. Each team will face everyone in the league home and away with additional matches versus regional rivals.

USL PDL: Each team plays 16 games during the regular season.

W-League: Each team plays 14 games during the regular season.

PLAYOFFS

Each league in USL has its own distinct playoff system that will determine the league champion.

USL First Division: The top six teams enter the playoffs with the top two teams receiving byes to the semifinals. The Quarterfinal series are September 16 and 18 and the Semifinal series are September 23 and 25. Both series are two-leg, aggregate score series. The USL First Division Championship will be held October 1 and will be broadcast on Fox Soccer Channel.

USL Second Division: The top four teams enter the playoffs with a two-leg, aggregate score series semifinals August 19-21. The USL Second Division Championship will be held August 27 and will be broadcast on Fox Soccer Channel.

USL PDL: The conference playoffs, featuring the top two clubs from each division will take place July 29-31. The league semifinals will occur the weekend of August 6 with the championship Saturday, August 13. The PDL Championship will be broadcast on Fox Soccer Channel.

W-League: The New Jersey Wildcats receive an automatic berth to the semifinals as host of the W-League Championship tournament. To determine the three conference champions to join the Wildcats in the semifinals, the three conferences will use the following systems:

Central Conference: The top two teams in each of the divisions will play in a four-team conference championship tournament that will be hosted by the Cincinnati Ladyhawks, who will not receive an automatic berth.

Eastern Conference: The top team from the regular season receives a bye to the four-team Eastern Conference Championship tournament. The top two teams in the Northern Division will play each other with the top four teams in the Northeast Division playing (1 v 4, 2 v 3) to add the other two participants to the conference tournament.

Western Conference: The top two teams will play for the conference championship.

The W-League Championship will be held on August 7 and will be broadcast on Fox Soccer Channel.

SINGLE PLAYOFF MATCHES

During postseason play, single games tied after regulation will be followed by two 15-minute overtime periods played in their entirety. If still tied, FIFA penalty kicks are used to determine the winner.

TWO-LEG, AGGREGATE SCORE SERIES

Playoffs: Each team will host a regulation 90-minute match. If the series score is tied at the conclusion of the second game (180 minutes total), two 15-minute overtime periods are played in their entirety to determine the series winner. If neither team scores, the series is then decided via FIFA penalty kicks. Rules governing the play of overtime and penalty kicks are extended from the second match.

LAMAR HUNT US OPEN CUP

Dating back to 1914, the Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup is the oldest cup competition in United States soccer and is among the oldest in the world. Open to all affiliated amateur and professional teams in the United States, the annual U.S. Open Cup is a 91-year-old single-elimination tournament.

In a nutshell, the U.S. Open Cup is very similar to domestic cup competitions popular throughout Europe, South America and the rest of the world. Cup competitions, which usually run concurrent with a country's league season, are open in the early stages to any club that can qualify, giving local amateur teams a chance to compete against the best teams a country has to offer.

In leagues like the English Premier League, the Serie A in Italy and the Bundesliga in Germany, cup competitions are prestigious tournaments waged between a country's strongest teams like Manchester United, AC Milan and Bayern Munich, and smaller teams like Watford F.C. in England, a small-time club that hit it big in 1984 by making it all the way to the F.A. Cup Final. Just two years ago, unfashionable Chesterfield of the Second Division (the third flight in England) advanced to the semi-finals of the 1997 F.A. Cup in England before finally losing.

The winner of each country's domestic cup competition, in addition to taking home the prize money, is automatically placed into a tournament to compete against neighboring countries cup winners. In Europe this tournament is known as the Cup Winners' Cup competition, and in North and Central America it is the CONCACAF Cup Winners' Cup, which began in 1992.

HISTORY OF THE U.S. OPEN CUP

As the oldest, annual team tournament in U.S. sports history, the U.S. Open Cup dates back to 1914 when the Brooklyn Field Club won the first national title by defeating the Brooklyn Celtics in Pawtucket, R.I. First instituted as the National Challenge Cup under the aegis of the United States Football Association, it was conceived as a competition open to all players (amateur and professional) and based upon England's Football Association Cup format.

During the Open Cup's early years, teams sponsored by industry in the East's urban centers dominated the competition.

Bethlehem Steel (Pa.) won four Open Cup titles between 1915 and 1919, while Fall River F.C. (Mass.) won five national crowns between 1917 and 1931, tying Bethlehem Steel (a winner also in 1926) and Maccabees S.C. of Los Angeles (1973, 1975, 1977, 1978 and 1981) as the tournament's only five-time winners.

Although there have been numerous back-to-back winners (eight overall by seven different teams), only Greek American AA of New York, N.Y. have won three consecutive crowns (1967-1969).

While teams sponsored by industries in the East's urban centers dominated the Men's Open and Amateur Cups until the 1950s, the teams from the West and Midwest have flexed their muscles in the later years. In fact, California alone has garnered the lion's share of success, winning 10 titles since 1973. Missouri, Illinois and Florida have also appeared regularly on the winner's list.

Although it is now a complete "knock-out" tournament, with a few exceptions the U.S. Open Cup final was a two-leg, home-and-away series between 1928 and 1968.

Despite the prominence of the North American Soccer League from 1967 to 1984, NASL teams rarely showed the inclination to enter the U.S. Open Cup competition. In fact, until the emergence of Major League Soccer, full professional teams were almost non-existent in the competition. That has changed in the last four years, though, with MLS taking part since 1996, thus helping to make the tournament a true "national" championship.

Due to increased sponsorship and greater media attention, the Open Cup is now beginning to enjoy a prominence equal to its importance as America's "open" soccer championship.

Cup Run Silver Lining for Struggling Battery

Three USL teams reach US Open Cup Quarterfinals, Charleston Semifinals

A championship hangover sent the 2003 USL First Division champion Charleston towards the bottom of the table in 2004, but the season was not all bad for the Battery, whose run in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup kept their fans excited.

Charleston opened the tournament in the Third Round with a 2-0 victory over the defending USL Second Division champion Wilmington Hammerheads and then surprised Major League Soccer's MetroStars 1-0 in the Fourth Round to become one of four USL First Division teams to advance to the Quarterfinals.

The Minnesota Thunder, Richmond Kickers and Rochester Raging Rhinos joined Charleston in the final eight.

Minnesota followed a 2-1 overtime Third Round win over the eventual Premier Development League Finalist Boulder Rapids Reserve with a Fourth Round 1-0 upset over MLS' Los Angeles Galaxy.

The Richmond Kickers also needed overtime in the Third Round to down the two-time defending PDL champion Cape Cod Crusaders 2-1 before registering an upset against DC United 2-1.

Charleston edged Rochester 1-0 to be the only non-MLS team in the semifinals while the Kickers were nipped 1-0 by the Chicago Fire and the Thunder were knocked out in penalty kicks 5-4 after a 2-2 draw with the San Jose Earthquakes. Charleston took the Fire to overtime in their semifinal game before falling 1-0.

Boulder and Cape Cod were two of four PDL teams to advance to the Third Round of the tournament with the Carolina Dynamo and Chicago Fire Reserves joining them.

Boulder opened the tournament with a 2-1 win over the USASA's Chico Rooks and advanced past the then USL Second Division's San Diego Gauchos 5-4 on penalty kicks after a scoreless draw in the Second Round. The Rapids Reserve would fall in the next round to Minnesota.

The Crusaders notched a 3-2 win over the USL Second Division's Western Mass Pioneers before facing Richmond.

Carolina knocked off former USL Second Division rival Charlotte Eagles 4-3 in the Second Round and fell 3-2 in overtime to the USL First Division's Atlanta Silverbacks in the Third Round.

The Fire Reserves thumped the USL Second Division's New Hampshire Phantoms and made it a sweep of one-goal decisions for PDL teams in the Third Round in a 1-0 loss to Rochester. Chicago's Julian Nash finished as the leading scorer of the tournament with 10 points on four goals and two assists.

In the end, the Kansas City Wizards brought the Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup home to the tournament's namesake as his Wizards topped the Chicago Fire 1-0 on an Igor Simutenkov free kick in the 95th minute. Josh Wolff was fouled 20 yards from goal by Evan Whitfield of the Chicago Fire. Simutenkov stepped up to take the kick and drove a bending shot through a spot that teammate Alex Zotinca vacated in the wall. Once through the wall, Fire goalkeeper Henry Ring dove to his right to make the save. He tipped the ball straight up in the air, off the crossbar, and back down off the back of his hand and into the net.

OPEN CUP RULES & FORMAT

USL IN THE OPEN CUP

UNDERDOGS CAPTURE THE SPOTLIGHT

In a league as diverse and vast as USL, it's easy to be overlooked – especially when competing against Major League Soccer teams for the Dewar Cup in the Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup tournament.

The Rochester Raging Rhinos of the A-League are the epitome of success achieved by underdogs in the tournament, reaching the championship match twice and capturing the title in 1999.

Rochester made their first historic run during its inaugural A-League season in 1996, beating two MLS teams to reach the championship game.

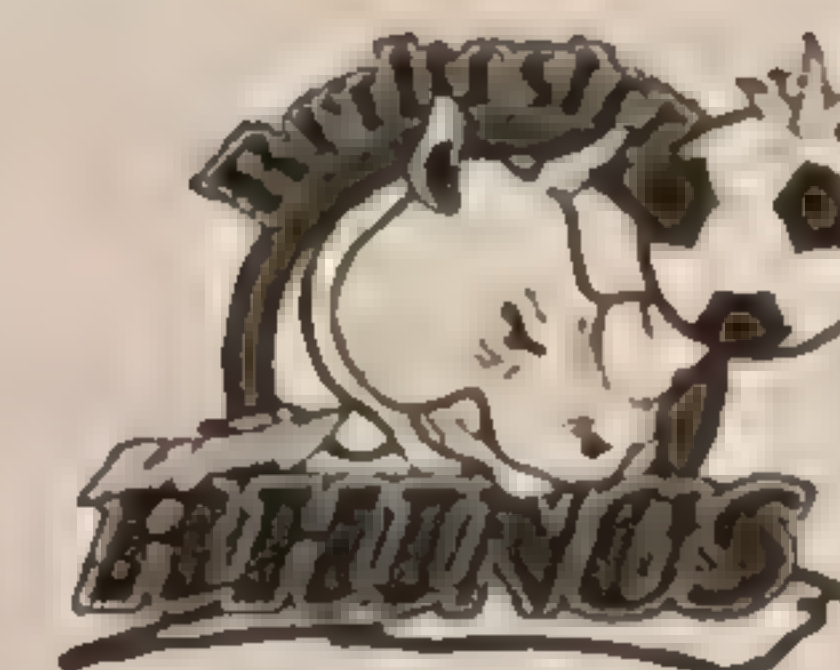

After an easy 2-0 win over the provisional Premier League side Fort Myers Manatees in Round 2, the Raging Rhinos eliminated the Tampa Bay Mutiny with a wild 4-3 victory in the Quarterfinals. Rochester advanced to face the Colorado Rapids in the Semi-Finals, where they secured their birth into the championship game with a 3-0 thrashing of the Division I club. D.C. United turned the tables on Rochester in the Final, however, winning the Dewar Cup with a convincing 3-0 victory.

The Raging Rhinos returned to glory in the tournament three years later by defeating a stunning string of four MLS teams to win the Dewar Cup themselves in 1999. Rochester needed overtime, however, against the PDL's New York Freedoms just to get past Round 2 with a 2-1 victory. After the close call, the Rhinos proceeded to defeat the Chicago Fire, 1-0, in the next round. In the Quarterfinals, Rochester needed overtime again to defeat the Dallas Burn, 2-1, to advance to the Semifinals, where they handed the Columbus Crew a 3-2 defeat. Colorado had a chance to redeem its 1996 loss to the Rhinos in the championship match, but fell, 2-0, before 4,455 fans at Columbus Crew Stadium.

The Richmond Kickers established themselves as the team to watch in 1995, however, when they won the PDL title. Then they beat even longer odds when they defeated the El Paso Patriots, 2-1, in a shootout to become the first USL team ever to win the U.S. Open Cup before a crowd of 7,378 fans at El Paso's Socorro Stadium. In winning the "double," the Kickers dispelled the notion that USL's best teams play only in the pro tier. Three of the four semi-finalists were USL teams with the other two being El Paso and the Chicago Sting, both of the Pro League. Just two years after winning the Open Cup, Richmond joined the A-League in 1997.

Another dream run was not long off as the D3 Pro League's San Francisco Bay Seals showed everyone that they too could do it. One season removed from playing in the PDL, the Seals proceeded to amaze the American soccer public with a surprising, 2-0, win over the two-time defending A-League champion Seattle Sounders. They continued to slay the Goliaths before them, defeating the Kansas City Wizards, 2-1, and San Jose Clash, 2-1, of Major League Soccer. The run came to an end, however, at the hands of defending MLS and U.S. Open Cup champion D.C. United, 2-1 in the Semi-Finals. The Seals were the only team to score against United in the 1997 tournament.

In 2004, the Charleston Battery became only the second USL team to reach the semifinals for a second time, downing the Wilmington Hammerheads in Round 3, the MetroStars of MLS in Round 4 and the Rhinos in the Quarterfinals.

VOYAGEURS CUP

The Voyageurs Cup, inaugurated in 2002, is awarded annually to the most successful Canadian USL First Division team based on league points earned in matches between these teams. The Montreal Impact have won all three editions of the competition. In 2004, the Women's Voyageurs Cup East and Women's Voyageurs Cup West were awarded to the most successful Canadian team in each of the Eastern and Western conferences of the W-League, respectively, based on league points earned in matches between these teams. The inaugural titles were won by Ottawa and Vancouver. The entire cost of all Voyageurs Cup operations has been borne entirely by private donations from individual Voyageurs, the Canadian National Teams' fan club. Match schedules, results and standings for all Voyageurs Cup competitions are provided at www.voyageurscup.ca.

Vega also served as the club's first head coach in 1995. The two have helped establish the Reds in central Washington as a leading developer in talent through their PDL and Super Y-League teams.

DOC & MARCIE LAUMANN Hampton Roads Piranhas, 1995-present

The husband-and-wife team of the Laumann's has made the Piranhas not only one of the most respected franchises in the W-League, but also in USL. Marcie has served as a member of the W-League Executive Committee and the USL Competition Committee. She was recognized as the W-League Executive of the Year in 2001 with the team receiving the W-League Organization of the Year award in 2003. Marcie was also the first recipient of the Archie Moylan Award, which recognizes outstanding courage or humanitarianism. She was honored in 2000 for her perseverance through difficulties stemming from her battle against Juvenile Onset Diabetes. Standing by Marcie's side, Doc has helped keep the team running smoothly through the years without recognition.

BOB LENARDUZZI Vancouver Whitecaps / 86ers, 1993-present

Bob Lenarduzzi is arguably the most influential soccer administrator in British Columbia and one of the most respected in all of Canada. His name is synonymous with Vancouver professional soccer whether it be associated with the NASL Whitecaps moniker, which he played under and the team adopted in 2001, or its previous name, 86ers, which the franchise was founded as and used when joining the A-League in 1993. Lenarduzzi has made the Whitecaps a flagship franchise in USL with the addition of the W-League team and its Super Y-League program in 2001. He has survived several ownership changes and times of serious financial difficulties to build the club into one of the premier organizations in USL.

JEFF ROBBINS Spokane Shadow, 1995-present

The face of the Premier Development League Northwest Division, Spokane Shadow General Manager Jeff Robbins helped found the team in 1995 and has guided it to its status as one of the top clubs on and off the field in the entire league. Under his leadership, the team has consistently finished in the top four in the league in attendance over the last eight seasons, finishing first three times, with an average just over 1,500 a year. A longtime member of the PDL Executive Committee, Robbins has also served on the USL Competition Committee since 2001.

JOEY SAPUTO Montreal Impact, 1993-present

Joey Saputo has been the key figure for professional soccer in Montreal since 1993 when he led the founding of the Impact by the Saputo Group. The Impact quickly became one of the top franchises on and off the field. The team was sold prior to the 2001 season, but Saputo came to the rescue of the franchise just over a year later when the new ownership group ceased funding the team in the midst of the 2002 season. From near extinction, Saputo has resurrected the team to become a tremendous success and one of the top draws in the A-League and in Montreal sports, culminating in a sold-out crowd of over 13,000 witnessing the team winning its second A-League championship in 2004.

LARRY SMYTH Central Coast Roadrunners, 1996-2002

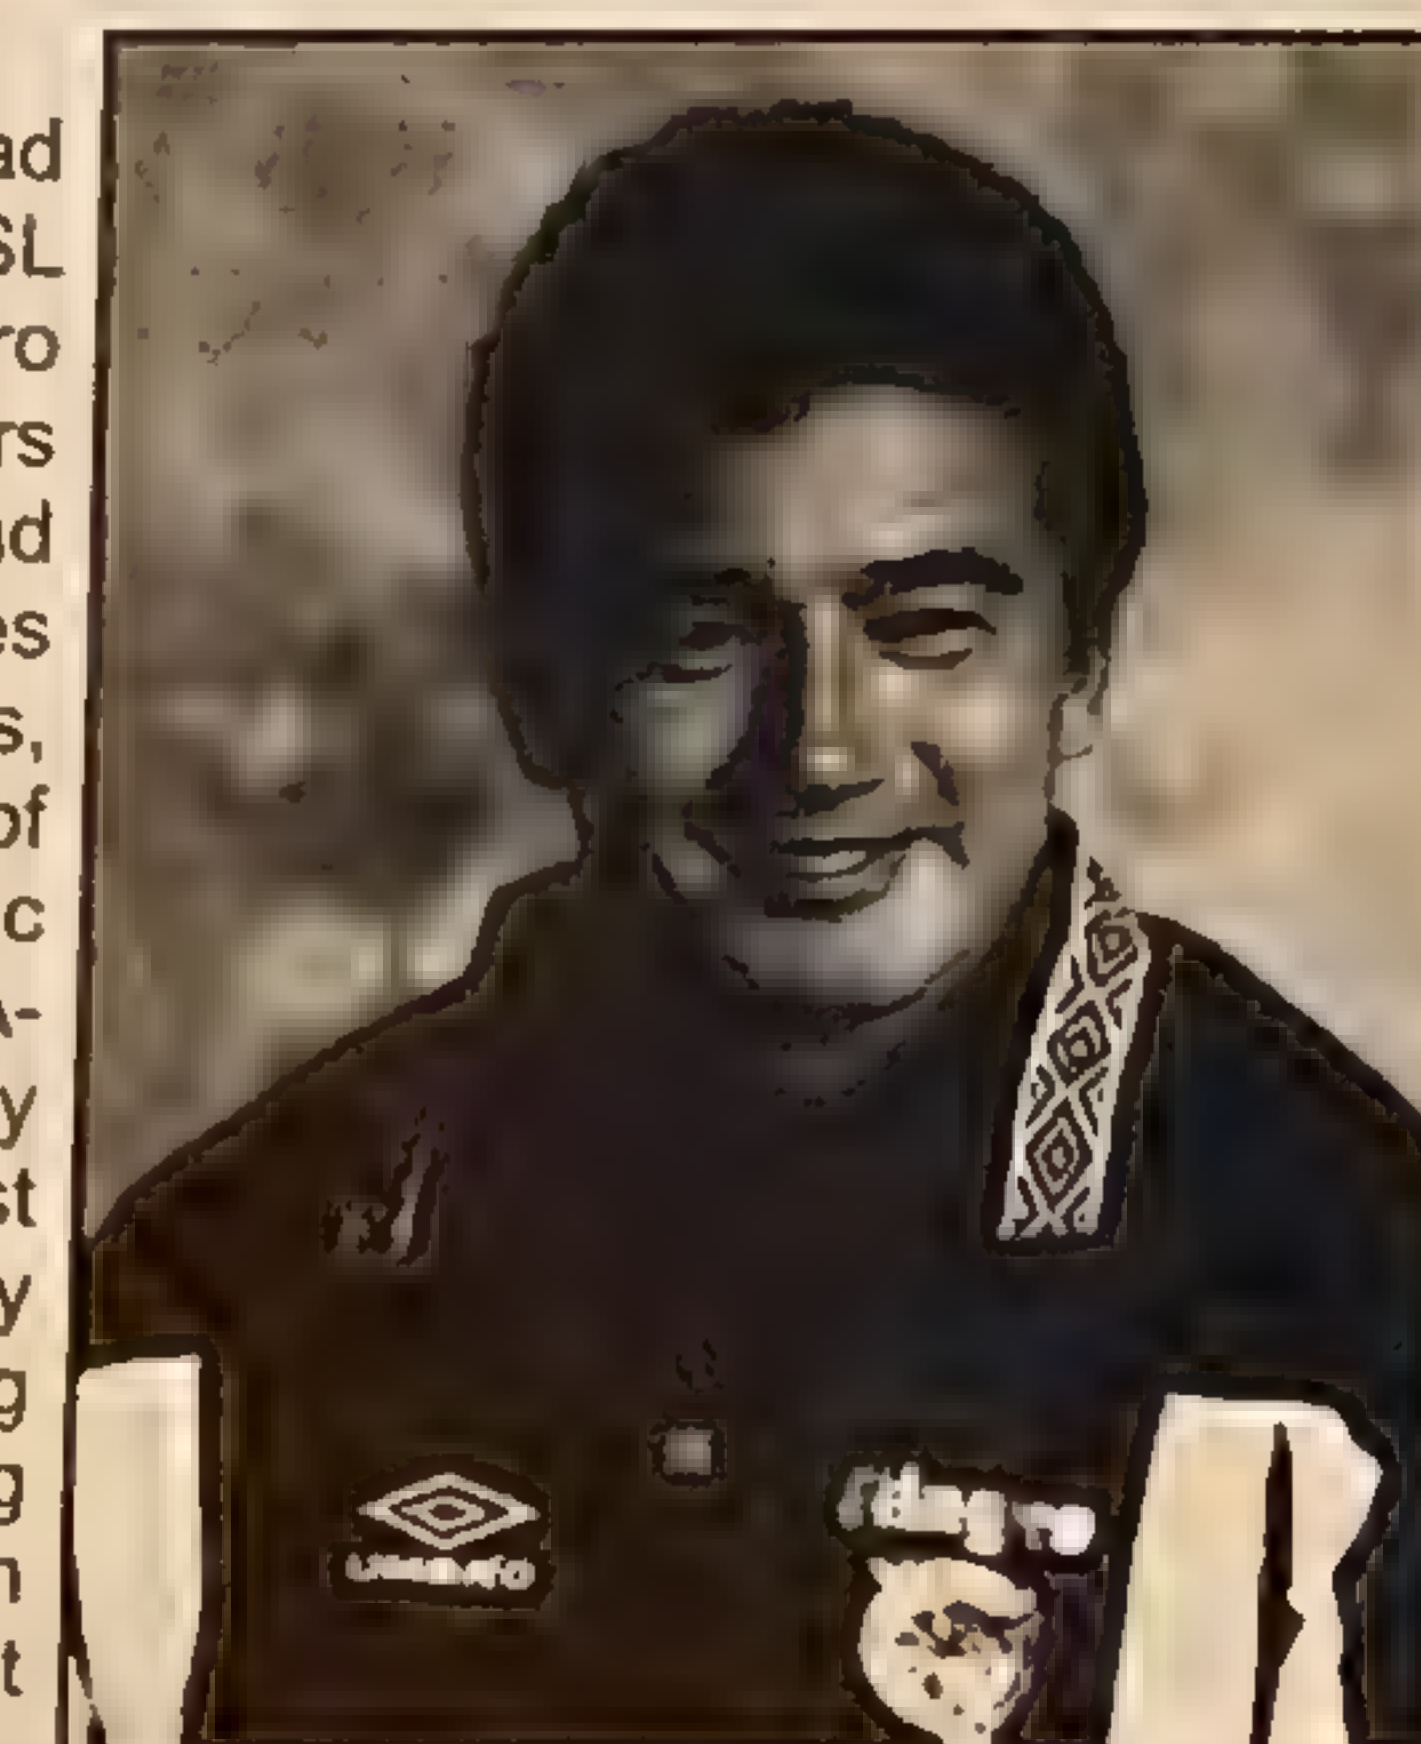

From their founding in 1996, the Central Coast Roadrunners were the class of the Premier Development League in California and Smyth was the key factor. He led the club to success at the gate and on the field. The team won PDL championships back-to-back in 1996 and 1997 and hosted several playoff tournaments including the 1997 championship. Smyth was also a guiding influence in the growth and development of the PDL through his membership of the Executive Committee. Although the club ceased operations in San Luis Obispo in 2002, Smyth oversaw the transition of the club's franchise rights to the Fresno Fuego, who continue to carry on the tradition of representing the PDL in an exemplary manner. Smyth is the first person to be inducted into the USL Hall of Fame via vote in the Builder category, which has an automatic induction for owners and executives who have served 10 years in the USL.

BRET HALL Chicago Sting 1998, Chicago Sockers 1999-00, Chicago Fire Reserves 2001-02

Hall, the only coach or player inducted in 2004, is the only head coach in USL outdoor history to win three consecutive USL championships, leading the Chicago Sting to the 1998 D3 Pro League championship and the team's successor Chicago Sockers to two straight Premier Development League titles in 1999 and 2000. He was also the initial coach of the Chicago Fire Reserves when the team replaced the Sockers in 2001. Through five seasons, he had a regular season mark of 67-21-2, a postseason record of 14-2 and a US Open Cup record of 3-2-1 that included fantastic performances in 1998 and 2000. The Sting upset Hershey (A-League) in 1998, but the Sockers made headlines in 2000 as they and Mid Michigan were the first two PDL teams to advance past MLS clubs. Chicago tied Kansas City 1-1 and advanced on penalty kicks, falling to eventual champion Chicago Fire 1-0 in the following round. Hall's teams were renowned for their defense, never finishing worse than second in goals allowed and giving up just five goals in 15 playoff games over the first four years, including a perfect shutout run in 2000.

10 + CLUBS

Cascade Surge

The Cascade Surge franchise has been one of the constants in the Northwest Division of the Premier Development League. Founded in the Pro League in 1995, the team finished its inaugural season with a postseason appearance at 14-6. As the region developed, the team joined the PDL in 1997, making the playoffs for a second time with an 8-8 record before enduring a four-year postseason drought. In 2002, the Surge ended the playoff absence with a 9-9 record. They improved to 11-5-2 in 2003 and made the playoffs for the third straight year in 2004 with an 11-4-1 mark, winning their division for the first time in team history. The club has been very involved in international goodwill missions, visiting places like Thailand as well as war-torn Sudan on a peace tour.

Hampton Roads Piranhas

One of the original 17 franchises in the W-League's first official season in 1995, the Hampton Roads Piranhas franchise has seen its ups and downs on the field, but has long been one of the most respected franchises, hosting the W-League Championship twice. The club was recognized as the Organization of the Year in 2003 and owner Marcie Laumann was honored as Executive of the Year in 2001. The team was winless in its opening campaign (0-6), but rebounded in 1996 to finish 5-5 and went on to make the playoffs in 1997 at 7-3. When the league split in 1998, the team reached the W-2 Final despite finishing the regular season 5-7. The Piranhas finished 8-4 the following season and advanced to the league semifinals. Growing off the field, the franchise moved to W-1 in 2000 and finished out of the playoffs at 7-6-1. In 2001, the club was named the host of the W-League Championship tournament and finished the season 10-2-2, but fell in the semifinals. After an 8-5-1 season and playoff appearance in 2002, the team was again named the W-League Championship host and went on to record a 12-0-0 mark on the season en route to winning the division for the first time and, more importantly, the W-League Championship. At 12-1-1 in 2004, the Piranhas won the division for the second year running.

HAMPTON ROADS

Long Island Lady Riders

One of the original 17 franchises in the W-League's first official season in 1995, the Long Island Lady Riders are one of the most successful teams on and off the field. The Lady Riders won the inaugural championship after going 9-1 on the season and won a second title in 1997 after missing the playoffs in their sophomore campaign. The team has missed the postseason only twice and has never finished with more than five losses in any season for an overall regular season record of 98-28-2 and has a playoff record of 9-6-1. The franchise has consistently been among the league leaders in attendance with an average of 956 per season over the last five year years and was honored as the Organization of the Year in 2000 when they finished second at 1,121. The club added a Super Y-League program in 2001.

Rhode Island Stingrays

Founded as a member of the Pro League in 1995, the Rhode Island Stingrays played at the third division level until 2001, making the playoffs three straight years from 1996-98. After missing the postseason for three consecutive seasons, longtime coach and general manager Mario Periera took over ownership of the club and moved it to the Premier Development League, where it has seen steady improvement competitively, posting 10-win seasons for the first time since 1998. The club has participated in the Super Y-League and launched a W-League team in 2004.

Spokane Shadow

One of the flagship franchises in the Premier Development League, the Spokane Shadow were founded in 1995 and have been one of the league's most successful teams on and off the field. The team has consistently finished in the top four in the league in attendance over the last eight seasons, finishing first three times, with an average just over 1,500 a year. The team has hosted numerous playoff tournaments and the 1999 PDL Championship tournament, during which the team reached the final. On the field, the team has won five regular season division titles, has never had a losing season and has missed the postseason only once, posting an all-time regular season record of 112-45-7.

West Michigan Edge

Founded in 1995 as the Grand Rapids Explosion, the West Michigan Edge franchise has seen several changes over the years, starting with a change to the West Michigan Explosion during an ownership transfer that included current CEO Bob Dykstra in 1999. In 2000, the club changed its moniker to the Edge and in 2004 added a W-League team. The changes in 2000 coincided with a shift in the team's success on the field in a positive direction. The team, which previously had 13 wins in its first five seasons, finished 9-9 to make the postseason and then went on to post 13 and 11 wins the next two years, respectively.

Yakima Reds

The Yakima Reds franchise has been one of the constants in the Northwest Division of the Premier Development League. Founded in the Pro League in 1995, the team finished its inaugural season with a 4-16 record, but rebounded to finish 8-8 the following year. As the region developed, the team joined the PDL in 1997, making the playoffs for the first time with a 7-9 record. In 1998, the team finished 9-7 and made a brief run in the playoffs. After finishing 6-10 in 1999, the club bounced back to win the regular season division title with a 12-5-1 record and advance to the league semifinals at the PDL Championship tournament. Since then, the club has seen tremendous growth off the field, which included the 2001 addition of a Super Y-League program that has produced players for the senior side.

USL HALL OF FAME

Establishment of USL Hall of Fame

The 2002 AOM featured the establishment of a USL Hall of Fame, celebrating the longevity of USL and the people and franchises who have helped the league grow since its founding as a five-team indoor league in the Southwest in 1986.

"We had wanted to establish a USL Hall of Fame for several years and I am excited to finally be able to honor some of the men, women and organizations who have helped make USL a success over the years," said USL President and founder Francisco Marcos. "The inaugural class was only the beginning as there are so many people who deserve to be recognized for tremendous efforts and personal sacrifices made over the years on behalf of United Soccer Leagues and the sport of soccer in North America."

"Recording the history of the sport is an important part of establishing soccer as a significant member of the North American sports landscape. Documenting our own history will assist the overall effort of recognizing the long-standing presence of soccer in North America as well as the prominent figures within the sport."

The initial class of inductees were selected as Builders, Clubs, Coaches or Players. Future candidates will be elected based on their abilities, sportsmanship, character and contribution to their organization, USL and to the sport in general.

"These four categories are representative of USL," said Marcos. "I could not think of a better word than builders to describe the attributes of the individuals that should be recognized. USL would not be where it is today without builders laying the foundation across the United States and Canada. Builders is an all-encompassing category that allows us to recognize the contributions individuals ranging from owners to referees to media have made."

Nearly a dozen Builders and Clubs each were recognized in the Inaugural Class for their 10-plus years of service, dedication and support to USL.

"We have established 10 years as a benchmark for recognition. Reaching that plateau is an outstanding achievement in this business and it is important to recognize these clubs and individuals for their dedication and ability to persevere through numerous hardships, which no person or club is exempt from."

The Inaugural Class of Players and Coaches emphasized personal achievements accomplished during and beyond their USL tenure.

"You could not have the game without coaches and players. Since founding what is now USL in my garage in 1986, many players and coaches have come and gone and it's time the ones who left lasting imprints be officially recognized for their achievements. Their resumes boast tremendous accomplishments in USL and beyond. They are simply no-brainers."

Following the Inaugural Class of inductions into the Hall of Fame, an Election Committee was established to nominate and vote on future classes. The Election Committee is comprised, in part, by those current Hall of Fame members.

THE USL STORY

USL's historic evolution from its inception as the Southwest Indoor Soccer League in 1986 has undertaken numerous grand and often imposing endeavors, including a tour of the Soviet Union in 1990 with an All-Star group of players from the SISL indoor and outdoor clubs. Its history includes the launching of an outdoor league in a time when the success of such a venture was slim. When the outdoor risk proved to be victorious, the league took another risk by introducing an elite women's league. And it has all occurred under the vision of building the base for higher levels of play first and foremost.

1986... GENESIS: THE BEGINNING

Former Tampa Bay Rowdies and Dallas Tornado executive Francisco Marcos decides to start a regional indoor soccer league, the Southwest Indoor Soccer League, or SISL, based in Texas. He signs three teams from Texas and one each from Oklahoma and New Mexico. The original members of the SISL are the Garland Genesis, Lubbock Lazars, Amarillo Challengers, Oklahoma City Warriors and Albuquerque Outlaws.

The vision behind the league, similar to today's, was to act as a minor-league for the highly popular Major Indoor Soccer League, which was the latest and greatest hope for American soccer following the demise of the North American Soccer League. The plan worked. Although the league would not sign an agreement with MISL, numerous players over the years would advance to play at the top level of indoor soccer in the country.

The league was forged by Marcos and five men, who converted empty warehouses into indoor soccer arenas primarily for local competitive and recreational leagues. Their new purpose, unbeknownst to them at the time, would have much greater impact than imagined and their destiny would unfold as the foundation for the country and North America's future success at the international level within 10 years.

Of the original five teams, only one remains. The Texas Spurs of the Premier Development League are the descendants of the Garland Genesis following a slew of moves and name and ownership changes. The franchise, in 2001, will be playing under its 13th name, as the Texas Spurs, since the Garland Genesis debuted in 1986.

It is fitting that the Genesis, whose presence is still felt today, were the first champions in USL history, defeating the Lubbock Lazars, 7-2, in the championship match at the conclusion of the 1986-87 season. Garland's Greg Nicholas picked up the league goal-scoring crown in addition to being Most Valuable Player. Danny Perge of the Genesis was tops in assists, while Oklahoma City's Steve Meyers was the Goalkeeper of the Year and Chico Villar was the Coach of the Year.

1987... THE FIRST EXPANSION

The Austin Sockadillos, founded by Marcos, became the first expansion team in USL history in 1987, bringing the league to a total of six teams for the 1987-88 season. The team was co-owned by Tatu, of NASL and MISL fame, who was fondly referred to as the Fantastic Armadillo by Marcos. In honor of the great player, the team was named the Sockadillos with a posterized cartoon version of Tatu, which is Brazilian for armadillo.

Shortly after the Sockadillos went outside, the team altered its name slightly to Soccadillos to differentiate between the indoor and outdoor teams. With an ownership change following the 1993 season, the Soccadillos were no more as the team became the Lone Stars for 1994. Austin also had a sister Lady Lone Stars franchise, which began play in W-2 in 1999.

The first of many name changes and moves begins with Albuquerque changing its nickname to the Gunners. In addition, the Garland Genesis begins its continual process of metamorphosis, becoming the Arlington Arrows.

The Oklahoma City Warriors, who would later become the Slickers, defeated the expansion Sockadillos two games to one in the three-game championship series at the conclusion of the 1987-88 season.

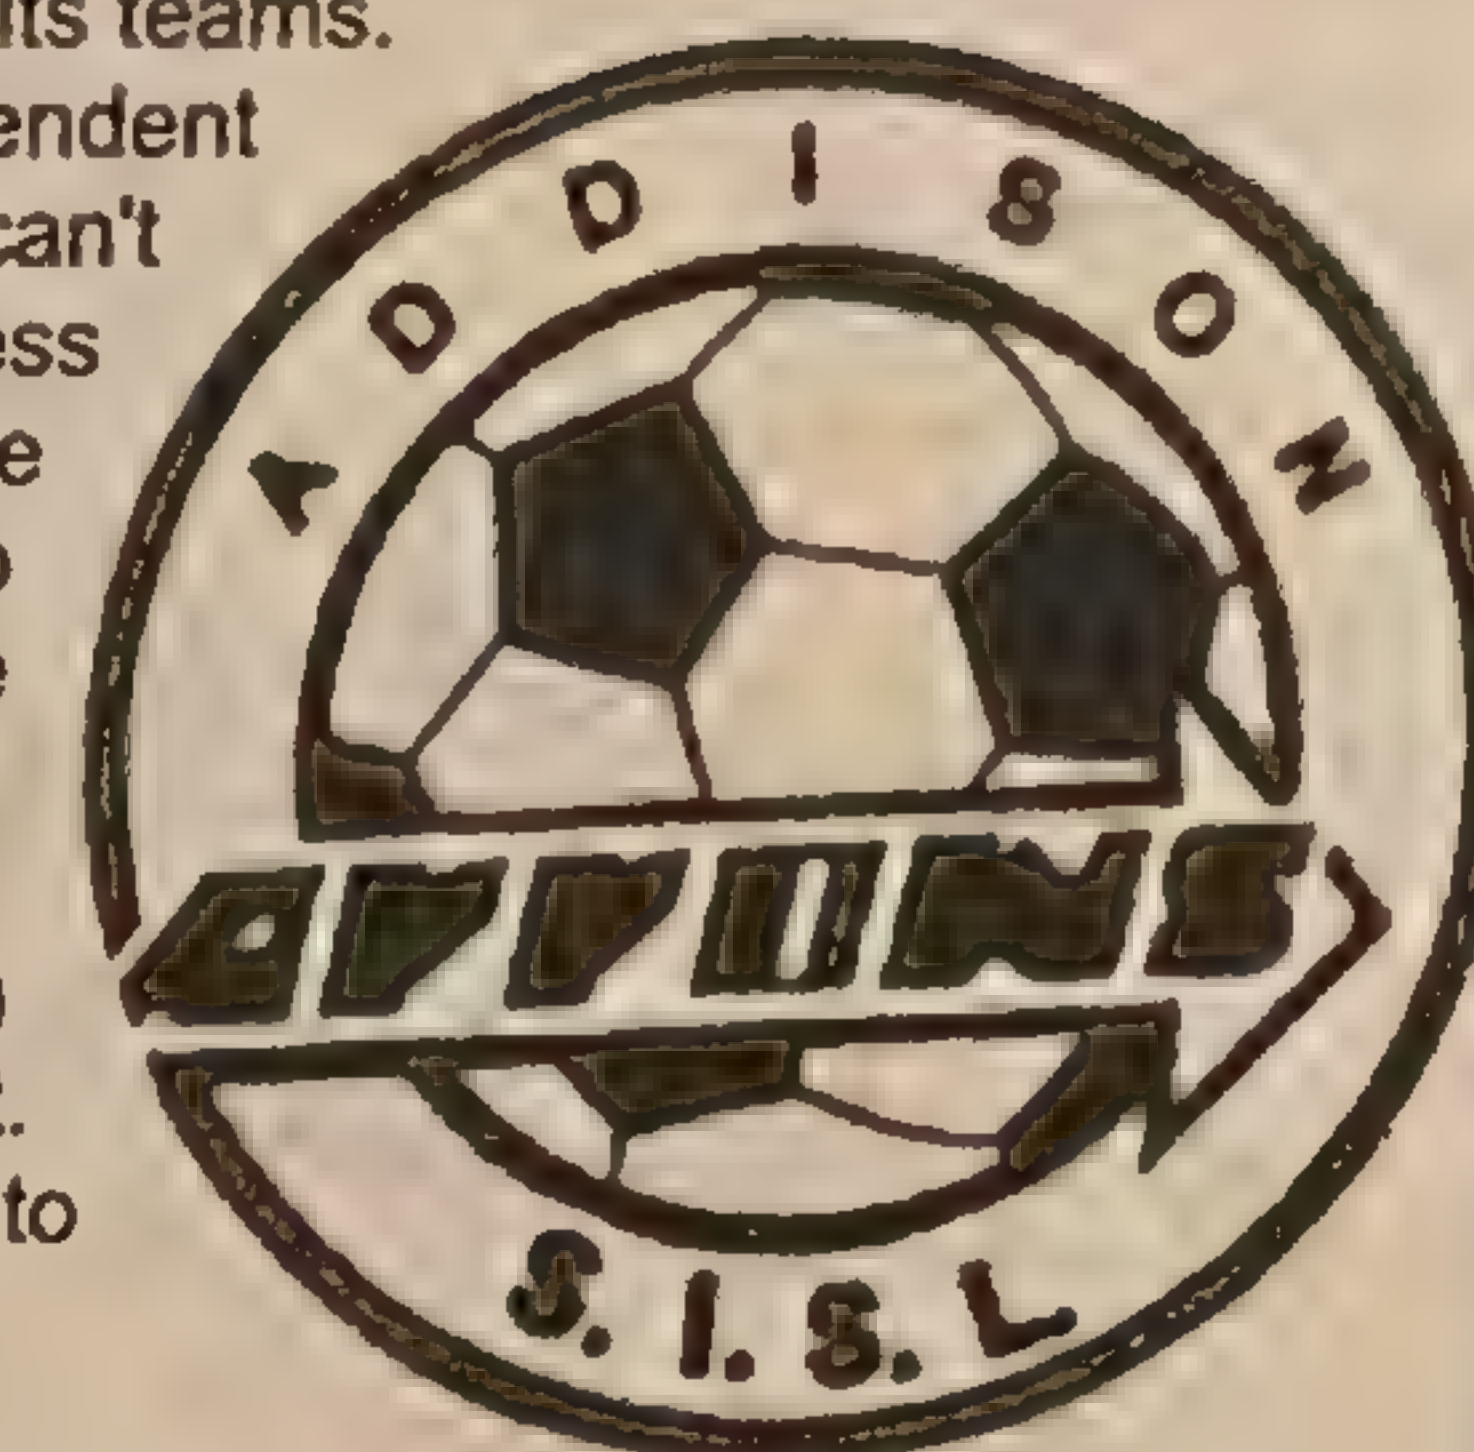

Oklahoma City's Chico Villar was named Coach of the Year for the second straight season. Assist leader Austin Hudson of the Warriors was named Most Valuable Player.

Austin's Steve Bailey was named Rookie of the Year, while Uwe Balzis, of Albuquerque, was the top goal scorer and Todd Brunskill, of Addison, was the best goalkeeper.

1988... OUTDOOR ON THE HORIZON

Change is the name of the game and the league is no different than its teams. The SISL acronym remains, but it stands for Southwest Independent Soccer League. The name change was necessitated because you can't call yourself an indoor soccer player when you venture outdoors. Less than three years after its founding and only a half a decade since the demise of the NASL, the SISL prepares for the giant step back into the great outdoors, embracing the game as it is played throughout the rest of the world.

The league expanded to nine indoor teams for the 1988-89 season with the Wichita Tornado, Houston Express and San Antonio Heat. The Arrows (Genesis-Spurs) continue to search for a home, moving to Addison, their third city in the league's three years of existence.

With the league's 1988-89 top goal-scorer and Most Valuable Player Brian Monaghan, the Austin Sockadillos reach the championship series for the second straight year after finishing first in the regular season.

After falling behind two games to none to the Lubbock Lazars, SISL's 1988-89 Coach of the Year Tony Simoes rallied his team in the next two games to tie the series at two apiece to force the tiebreaker mini-game.

Lubbock, behind the league's top goalkeeper David Swissler and Rookie of the Year Todd Hoodenpyle, nearly captured the title in game three, coming up short in the shootout. Austin handily won game four, 7-4, to even up the series. Lubbock, however, was too much as they raised the trophy with a 2-1 win in the mini-game.

Uwe Balzis finished at the top in assists for the second-year Albuquerque Gunners.

1989... THE GREAT OUTDOORS

The Southwest Independent Soccer League hits the outdoors for the first time in the league's history in 1989. The league actually goes by the name Southwest Outdoor Soccer League (SOSL) briefly to differentiate the two leagues.

The expansion Colorado Comets join the league and proceed to win the first of several USL championships after dropping just one game in the 12-match season. The second place Tulsa Renegades, 10-2, were upset by Addison in the playoff series two games to one, losing both on penalty kicks. Colorado then defeated the Addison Arrows, 3-1, in the outdoor Final. Colorado nearly swept the honors for the inaugural outdoor season. Ed Eid was named Coach of the Year and Kelvin Norman was the league's Most Valuable Player. Don Gallegos finished first in points and goals, while Chino Melendez finished tied for first in assists with Tulsa's Steve Hayes.

The Colorado Comets would go on to repeat as outdoor champions in 1990 in addition to winning the 1990-91 indoor crown, becoming the only team in USL history to win the indoor and outdoor titles in the same year. The Comets then left the league at the end of the 1991 outdoor season, returning in 1998 under new ownership. Former owner Ed Eid's presence remained as the director of communications. The club was renamed the Denver Cougars in 2001 following a change in ownership.

The Addison Arrows rebounded during the indoor season, winning the Tex-Ark-Oma Division with the league's fifth best regular season point total. Addison then preceeded to sweep Austin and the Richardson Rockets two games to none in the quarterfinals and semi-finals, respectively. They finished their perfect postseason by knocking off the expansion Phoenix Hearts, the Cactus Division's regular season champion, three games to none in the championship series. Andy Crawford, who played for the Permian Basin Shootin' Stars and Colorado Comets during the 1989-90 season was named the league's Most Valuable Player and Lubbock's David Swissler was the top goalkeeper for the second consecutive season.

1990... BLANKETING THE SUNBELT

The Colorado Comets become the first team to win both the indoor and outdoor championships, claiming their second straight outdoor crown in 1990 and the 1990-91 indoor championship in just their second year of existence.

SISL chronicled another historic moment by visiting the former Soviet Union. An All-Star SISL team of indoor and outdoor standouts such as David Swisler, Jeff Reasoner, Mark Friederich, Joe Brailey and Mike Godinez played Kishinev, Moldavia in front of approximately 8,000 Soviet soccer fans in May of 1990. In November, Kishinev visited the United States on a return trip, playing the Lubbock Lazars in an indoor match.

The evolution continued for the Arrows (Genesis-Spurs), changing their name to North Texas United for the 1990 outdoor season.

The Comets swept their way through the playoffs, defeating Lubbock and the Tucson Amigos in two games. The Comets, 12-2, were then declared the champions over the Richardson Rockets, 7-7, when the championship series was canceled.

Expansion continued as well, reaching into the mid-South and Southeast as the league began to blanket the Sunbelt prior to the 1990-91 indoor season, growing to a total of 18 teams. Such growth beyond the Southwest prompted the name alteration to Sunbelt Independent Soccer League prior to the 1990-91 indoor season to reflect the league's size. North Texas didn't last a year, becoming the Fort Worth Kickers for the indoor season, while Albuquerque became the New Mexico Roadrunners and the second-year El Paso franchise changed its name from Sixshooters to Spurs.

Colorado swept the Oklahoma City Warriors in three games in the indoor championship series to win its third title in two years.

1991... UNITED THROUGH GROWTH

Seventeen teams compete in the 1991 outdoor season, with the now-familiar litany of name changes. The Atlanta Steamers become the Quicksilver, New Mexico is now the Chiles and El Paso abandons a short-lived Spurs moniker for Patriots in honor of the Gulf War Scud-busting missiles, which protected many of the El Paso-based soldiers overseas, following an ownership change.

The Patriots, who are still under the ownership of Enrique Cervantes, have been one of USL's top teams since joining the league in the 1990-91 indoor season, replacing the terminated Six Shooters franchise of 1989-90, and are now members of the PDL. The Patriots compiled at least 10 wins in nine of their first 10 outdoor seasons.

The Chiles, however, prove to be most successful with their new image, winning the Southwest Division and reaching the 1991 SISL outdoor championship game before being derailed, 3-0, by the Richardson Rockets, who were led by league MVP David Pfeil.

The other star player in the 1991 outdoor season was Uwe Balzis, who finished at the top in league points, 31, and assists, 11.

Ever-increasing expansion forced the league to finally declare its large presence throughout much of the country with the moniker United States Interregional Soccer League prior to the 1991-92 season. And, oh, those ever-changing names! Both Atlanta teams change their names; the Quicksilver are now the Lightning and the Express transform to the Magic. The Rockets left the league but many of their players join the Texas Mid-Cities Flyers and the Genesis-Spurs franchise moves from Fort Worth to Dallas, but still as the Kickers.

Despite all of the changes, there is consistency. The Oklahoma City Warriors won their second indoor title, their first coming in the 1987-88 season, by defeating the Atlanta Magic, 7-2, in the Final of the first "Sizzlin' Four" championship tournament.

Chris Cook of the Atlanta Magic was named the 1991-92 indoor Most Valuable Player after leading Atlanta to the championship match.

1992... SIZZLIN' COAST TO COAST

The United States Interregional Soccer League's continued growth stretches to Florida and the Pacific, where the Palo Alto Firebirds would become the first rookie-club to win a title.

Claiming the 1992 outdoor championship in their inaugural season, the Firebirds defeated the Tucson Amigos in the first "Sizzlin' Six" championship tournament final in Orlando, Fla. Orlando's Sheldon Lee was named the league MVP. The Firebirds, who moved several times before calling Willamette Valley (Oregon) home, left the league after the '96 season, but returned in '99 and reached the PDL Final Four.

The expansion to 21 teams for the '92 outdoor season marked the first time the outdoor membership surpassed the indoor total. It would not be USL if the Genesis-Spurs franchise did not change its name. It is now the Dallas Americans.

Several teams take their first opportunity to sit out the indoor season, opting to concentrate on outdoor. Nevertheless, 11 teams, including the previously outdoor-only Knoxville Impact, compete in the 1992-93 indoor season. The Atlanta Magic complete the first undefeated season in SISL/USISL history, going 18-0 and winning the "Sizzlin' Four" tournament with a victory over the Arizona Cotton in the championship game.

1993... DYNAMITE SEASON

Explosion in outdoor membership occurs for the first time, doubling the size of the outdoor league from 21 to 43 for the 1993 season.

In addition to the dramatic expansion increase, the '93 outdoor season would turn out to be dynamic as well with the first-year Greensboro Dynamo repeating Palo Alto's '92 feat of capturing a championship in the team's inaugural season, defeating the Orlando Lions in the "Sizzlin' Six" Final. Greensboro's Eddie Radwanski was named league MVP.

The 1993 outdoor season also marked the first edition of the challenge cup format, an abbreviated seasonal tournament, with the Southern Challenge Cup consisting of the provisional New Orleans Riverboat Gamblers, Birmingham Grasshoppers, Montgomery Capitals and Jacksonville Fury. The Challenge Cup format was designed as a testing ground by USL for new teams.

The 1993-94 indoor season was just as magical with Atlanta completing their second consecutive season undefeated, running their winning streak to 33 games through two regular and post-seasons. The Magic were also 7-1 with a 4-1 playoff record, losing in the Final in their inaugural season in 1991-92.

Atlanta defeated the Chattanooga Express in the Sizzlin' Four Final in Baltimore for the championship. The Magic's streak would end at 37 in the following season on their way to a third consecutive indoor title. The end of Atlanta's run would be followed by the repeat of their "three-peat" by the Baltimore Bays.

1994... PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE BORN

Although the Pro League, as it was known in 1995 and 1996, would not be formed until the following outdoor season, USISL was given Division III status from the United States Soccer Federation. Exactly half of the league's 72 teams choose to turn professional with the amateur teams still eligible to compete in the Sizzlin' Nine Championship through the USSF's permission.

The amateur and undefeated (18-0 regular season) Minnesota Thunder, in their first year, would advance to the championship match of the Sizzlin' Nine before losing to the defending champion Greensboro Dynamo. It took a shootout, however, to decide the outcome between the two young clubs. Tied, 1-1, Greensboro came out on top in the shootout to win its second consecutive outdoor title in just its second year of existence. Minnesota's Manny Lagos, who would go on to play in MLS, was named league MVP.

The Minnesota Thunder's appearance was the first of five championship game appearances the team would have prior to the turning of the century, finally winning the A-League crown in 1999. The Thunder, a four-year-old amateur team, prior to joining USL in '94 have always been led by head coach Manuel (Buzz) Lagos. Lagos has compiled a 121-43-4 regular season USL record. He was honored as the Coach of the Year in 1995 after leading the Thunder to their second straight appearance in a championship game.

The 1994-95 indoor season sees the Atlanta Magic, who suffered their first loss since the 1991-92 season, continue their dominance with a third straight championship, defeating the renamed Oklahoma City Slickers, 6-3, in the final. The Mesquite Kickers, a distant cousin of the Genesis-Spurs joined the league.

1995... W-LEAGUE DEBUTS

In addition to the splitting of the outdoor league into two levels, pro and premier, the league introduces the W-League officially in 1995 after a successful trial run during the summer of '94.

The elite women's league featured U.S. National Team players as well as some of the top collegiate players in the country. The W-League's success is so great in its first two seasons that it will eventually split, similar to the men's league, in '98, forming W-1 and W-2. The Long Island Lady Riders defeated the Nitemares of Southern California for the inaugural W-League championship. Southern California's Laurie Hill was named league MVP.

If it didn't change, it wouldn't sizzle. The USISL retains its acronym while changing the league's name to United Systems of Independent Soccer Leagues, reflecting the umbrella organization of four leagues heading toward its 10th anniversary.

Future MLS player Giovanni Savarese scored the most memorable goal in USL history in the 1995 Pro League Championship. His game-winner with six seconds left gave the Long Island Rough Riders, in their second season, a 2-1 victory over Minnesota. Savarese's goal gave the Long Island teams a sweep of their two league championships in the same year. They are the only affiliated men's and women's teams to ever accomplish the feat.

It is the PDL Richmond Kickers who deservedly steal the spotlight in 1995, capturing the PDL championship, defeating the Cocoa Expos, and the U.S. Open Cup championship, defeating fellow USL member El Paso Patriots of the Pro League. They were the first USL team to not only win the Open Cup but the coveted "double" as well. The A-League Rochester Raging Rhinos would be the only other USL team since MLS was born in '96 to win the Open Cup.

1996... SIZZLIN' ANNIVERSARY

Reaching its 10th Anniversary with much success over the years, USL celebrates by designing and launching the final element of the developmental pyramid by creating the Select League. The Select League, a higher level of Division III at the time, was granted Division II status for the upcoming 1997 season by USSF, an action that would have far-reaching effects for soccer in North America in the near future. The Select League was just another selling point for USL as it came to an agreement with Major League Soccer, which made its debut in '96, to serve as a player development system for the Division I league.

The year was historic on the field as well with the USL shootout coming into play in two of the four championship matches. The Select and D3 Pro League championships came down to the revolutionary tiebreaker, which would be dropped after the '99 season, allowing draws for the first time in USL history.

Kevin Rueda gave the California Jaguars the Select title over the Richmond Kickers with three saves in the shootout and Eddie Pigford handed the Charleston Battery the D3 crown by stopping a penalty kick late in regulation, a blistering shot in overtime and two shootout attempts versus the Charlotte Eagles.

In the PDL, it was two West Coast teams battling it out on the opposite side of the country in Cocoa, Fla. for the championship. At the final whistle it was the Central Coast Roadrunners edging the San Francisco Bay Seals, who would move on to D3 the next year, by the score of 1-0. Bryan Taylor, who scored the game-winner and five of his team's six goals in the "Premier Six" tournament, would move on to play in MLS. The Roadrunners would go on to win a second consecutive championship while playing host to the '97 PDL Finals.

The Maryland Pride left no doubts in the W-League "Swizzlin' Six" championship tournament, winning the title without allowing a single goal in their three matches. The final statement was a 3-0 blanking of the Dallas Lightning, who were the only other team in the league with one loss.

1997... A-LEAGUE JOINS THE FOLD

Although the A-League was producing successful players of its own, it was inevitable that it would either disappear as the turn of the century neared or find a medium with USL. In October of 1996 the two leagues got together, and in 1997, history was made with the merger that would finalize the USL soccer dynasty. The two leagues, although taking separate paths in their ventures over the years, came together after 10 years of co-existence.

The new-age A-League was a compilation of the 1996 A-League clubs and a number of highly regarded teams from the now obsolete Select League as well as a few D3 Pro League and PDL teams.

Two former Select League teams met in the first USL A-League championship with the Milwaukee Rampage defeating the Carolina Dynamo in a shootout. After the second overtime finished tied at 1-1, Rampage goalkeeper Carmine Isacco made two saves as he blanked the Dynamo in the shootout for the championship.

With the addition of the A-League as the focal point of the season, it was the D3 Pro League and former PDL San Francisco Bay Seals making the headlines and stealing the spotlight. The Seals became the first cinderella team to make a run in the U.S. Open Cup since the debut of MLS. The D3 Seals first knocked off the '95 and '96 A-League champion Seattle Sounders before upsetting MLS' Kansas City Wizards, 2-1, and the San Jose Clash, by the same 2-1 score, to reach the semi-finals of the tournament. The run continued until they fell in a shootout, after tying the defending Open Cup and two-time MLS champion D.C. United, 1-1, through regulation and overtime.

The Albuquerque Geckos, with two goals and an assist from Luis Labastida, defeated the Charlotte Eagles, 4-1, for the '97 D3 championship on their home turf. The '97 PDL Finals host Central Coast Roadrunners repeated as champions with a narrow 2-1 victory over the Cocoa Expos and the Long Island Lady Riders became the first team to win two W-League Championships with a 2-1 shootout victory over Chicago. The Lady Riders' Kim Wyant allowed one goal in the nine-round shootout.

A-LEAGUE 1985-88... WSA, ASL BORN

It all begins in 1985, shortly after the demise of the North American Soccer League, which tasted brief success. A few soccer loyalists stuck with the goal to create a professional league in the United States by creating the four-team Western Soccer Alliance consisting of the San Jose Earthquakes, F.C. Seattle, Victoria Riptides and F.C. Portland. In the "Western Alliance Challenge Series," the four clubs played host to the World Cup-bound Canadian National Team. San Jose won the first title with a 4-2-1 record.

In 1986, the WSA jumped to seven clubs with the addition of the Hollywood Kickers, L.A. Heat, San Diego Nomads and the Edmonton Brick Men (replacing Victoria). The schedule doubled to 14 matches with Manchester City (England) and Dundee F.C. (Scotland) visiting each team. Hollywood finished first by a comfortable margin, and defender Paul Caligiuri of San Diego was selected as the WSA's first Player of the Year.

Late that year, a group led by NASL pioneer Clive Toye began discussions about the construction of a new professional league in the East.

In May of 1987, the American Soccer League announced it would commence play in April of '88 with the New Jersey Eagles, Maryland Bays, Boston Bolts, Washington Diplomats and Washington Stars.

The WSA replaced draws with overtime and penalty kick tiebreakers and added a playoff. In a tight race, only one game separated first-place San Diego from last-place California (formerly Hollywood). San Diego topped San Jose, 3-1, for the championship.

When 1988 rolled around, the ASL was 10 teams strong and nearly a quarter-million fans saw the league's inaugural season of 20 matches per club. The Washington Diplomats, the regular season runners-up, knocked off Northern Division champion New Jersey in the semi-finals two games to one and then swept the Southern Division champion Fort Lauderdale Strikers in the ASL Final.

The '88 WSA season saw the Seattle Storm go 10-2 and crush the Earthquakes, 5-0, in the Final. The defending Canadian Soccer League champion Calgary and Vancouver 86ers visited each WSA club, with the WSA clubs winning seven of 12. In the fall of '88, the WSA alters its name to Western Soccer League.

A-LEAGUE 1989-93... COMING TOGETHER

On February 12, 1989, the WSL and ASL announced they were working toward a merger. The first sign of their partnership would be the ASL-WSL National Championship Game played at Spartan Stadium in San Jose, Cal. Ft. Lauderdale (ASL) defeated San Diego (WSL) in the National Final, which was telecast to 10 million cable households nationwide.

With their initial venture a success, the two leagues announced on February 22, 1990, that they had merged under the American Professional Soccer League banner for business and marketing purposes. Six weeks later, the leagues opened their first season as partners playing as independent conferences (ASL & WSL) with a National Championship. The ASL opened with just one expansion team, Penn-Jersey Spirit, while the WSL would add the Colorado Foxes, Salt Lake Sting and New Mexico Chiles. In the first official APSL Championship Game, Maryland and San Francisco Bay staged a memorable struggle in the rain in Boston before a national cable audience with the Bays edging the Blackhawks on penalty kicks after a 1-1 tie for the first APSL title.

In 1991, the two conference runners-up from the regular season met up in the Final with the Blackhawks winning the title over the Albany Capitals. The Blackhawks won the second game of the two-leg series, forcing the mini-game tiebreaker, which would end on penalty kicks.

The 1992 APSL Championship game showcased two Final first-timers--regular season champion Colorado Foxes and runners-up Tampa Bay Rowdies. Reverting back to the single-game, winner-take-all format, the Foxes shaded the Rowdies, 1-0, on a brilliant first half free kick by midfielder Chad Ashton.

In 1993, the APSL expanded north of the border to Canada with the addition of the Montreal Impact, Vancouver 86ers and Toronto Blizzard. It was the second straight season the Foxes would claim the title, becoming the first franchise in the history of the APSL and its predecessors to win back-to-back championships. The Foxes came back from a 1-0 deficit with three minutes left and went on to defeat the L.A. Salsa 3-1 with two goals in overtime.

A-LEAGUE 1994-96... CANADIAN INVASION

Montreal became the first Canadian team to win the APSL championship in 1994 with a 1-0 victory over two-time defending champion Colorado. The teams reached the Final after finishing third and fourth in the regular season, respectively. The third-seeded Montreal Impact defeated Los Angeles on penalty kicks in the mini-game tiebreaker and the Colorado Foxes did the same versus the expansion Seattle Sounders, who won the regular season championship in their inaugural campaign.

Following their fifth successful season in 1994, the league altered its name, to reflect its Division II status, to A-League. The Impact and Sounders were again at the top in 1995. Regular season champion Montreal, however, fell to the expansion Atlanta Ruckus in the semi-finals via a shootout in the three-game series finale, while regular season runners-up Seattle defeated the Vancouver 86ers two games to one. Seattle fell behind to Atlanta, losing the shootout in Game One of the three-game championship series. The Sounders rebounded with a 3-0 hammering of Atlanta in Game Two and captured their first title with a 2-1 shootout victory in Game Three.

The Colorado Foxes returned to form in 1996, finishing second to Montreal in the regular season. The Sounders, however, won their second consecutive championship by defeating Colorado two games to one in the semi-finals and the expansion Rochester Raging Rhinos, 2-0, in the '96 championship match.

The rookie Rochester Raging Rhinos made history of another note in the U.S. Open Cup, becoming the first A-League team to reach the Open Cup Final. The Raging Rhinos knocked off the Tampa Bay Mutiny, 4-3, and Colorado Rapids, 3-0, of first-year Major League Soccer before losing, 3-0, to D.C. United, who also captured the MLS crown. The Raging Rhinos would go on to repeat the feat three years later, only, this time, winning the 1999 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup, 2-0, over the Colorado Rapids.

1998... W GOES TWO FOR ONE

Continued growth and success prompted USL to divide the elite women's league into two levels in 1998, forming W-1 and W-2. Teams in the two leagues would continue playing interleague games for travel-purposes but the mission was simple. If multiple levels worked for the men's side of the sport, there was no reason why it shouldn't for the women's side.

The W-League, which saw numerous current and future U.S. National Team players gracing the field in its uniforms went on to a spectacular '98 season, in which the Raleigh Wings won their first of two consecutive championships in W-1 and the Fort Collins Force captured the first W-2 title. The Wings, with a strong contingent of powerhouse University of North Carolina players, edged the hometown Boston Renegades in a high-scoring 4-3 championship match. Fort Collins, however, handily defeated the Hampton Roads Piranhas, 3-1, behind Maren Hendershot's two goals.

On the men's side, the Rochester Raging Rhinos continued their dominant role on and off the field. On the field, Rochester stomped through the regular season with a league-best 24-4 record. The Raging Rhinos allowed just six goals in their six playoff games that concluded with a 3-1 victory over the Minnesota Thunder, who would return the favor in '99, for the A-League championship.

The Chicago Stingers won their first of the franchise's three consecutive league titles in '98 by erasing a two-goal halftime deficit to defeat the New Hampshire Phantoms, 3-2, in overtime. Chicago, regrouping as the Sockers in the PDL in '99, would go on to win the PDL championship in their two seasons in the league.

In 1998, the San Gabriel Valley Highlanders, who reached the semi-finals in '97, gave the Southwest Division its third consecutive PDL championship by knocking off the previously undefeated Jackson Chargers, 3-2, in the Final. The Highlanders retained the crown won by the Central Coast Roadrunners in '96 and '97.

1999... A New Look: USL

With two successful years following the merger — a landmark moment in the system's history — and the new millennium on the horizon, the organization underwent its final image change, creating United Soccer Leagues.

Marking the occasion was the long-awaited birth of the Super Y-League, adding the first level in the North American soccer development pyramid. Its debut was not grand in size at 25 teams, but was a tremendous success as the number of teams tripled the following year.

Stealing the spotlight from the Super Y-League however, were the A-League's Rochester Raging Rhinos, who stunned the nation with a remarkable run in the U.S. Open Cup. The Raging Rhinos defeated four straight Major League Soccer teams to become the first non-MLS team to claim the Dewar Cup since MLS's inception.

The Minnesota Thunder prevented the Rhinos from winning the double, though, capturing the A-League title with a 3-1 victory at the National Sports Center.

The second-year Western Mass Pioneers defeated Northern Conference rival South Jersey Barons, 2-1, to win the D3 Pro League title and the Chicago Sockers handed the Spokane Shadow a 3-1 loss to claim their first of two consecutive PDL National Championships before a Shadow-record crowd of 3,843.

The Raleigh Wings and Chicago Cobras battled to the bitter end with the Raleigh Wings capturing their second straight W-1 title in a shootout after the match finished tied, 2-2.

The North Texas Heat were level, 1-1, with the W-2 National Championship host Springfield Sirens at halftime, but broke the game open with four goals in an 18-minute span in the second half to capture the title.

Eight teams gathered for the Super Y-League's inaugural U14 and U15 Finals. The Atlanta Fire swept the U14 tournament to capture the league's first U14 championship. The Central Jersey Riptide won the U15 crown as well by sweeping through the U15 tournament.

2000... HISTORY ON THE FIELD

Minnesota-Rochester III capped off the 2002 season with the Raging Rhinos reclaiming the A-League title with a 3-1 victory in front of 14,276 fans at Frontier Field.

The story of the year may have been the stunning upsets in the Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup by the PDL's Chicago Sockers and Mid Michigan Bucks over the Kansas City Wizards and New England Revolution, respectively. The Sockers downed Kansas City in penalty kicks of a scoreless match while the Bucks stunned the Revs on the road 1-0, scoring two minutes into stoppage time.

The Charlotte Eagles took the D3 Pro League crown in convincing fashion by handing the regular season champion New Jersey Stallions a 5-0 loss in front of 5,350 fans in Charlotte. The club's success led to promotion to the A-League for the following season.

Bret Hall continued to work his magic, leading the Sockers to their second straight PDL title with a 1-0 win over the Bucks in the championship game. The championship was his third consecutive for the franchise, which played in the D3 Pro League as the Stingers in 1998.

In the W-League, the Raleigh Wings were finally dethroned as W-1 Champions by the Chicago Cobras. Chicago, who had lost in shootouts the previous year to Raleigh and in 1995 to Long Island, came out victorious in the tiebreaker, ending Raleigh's two-year championship run. The W-2 title went to the Springfield Sirens, who denied Charlotte a sweep of men's and women's titles. Springfield breezed through the season with an 11-1 mark and captured the title against the Charlotte Lady Eagles with a 2-1 victory.

The Super Y-League exploded in growth in its second season, growing from 16 teams to 75 for 2000.

2001... CANADIANS THWARTED

The Canadian members of USL showed a lot of promise for an unprecedented year of success with the Calgary Storm, Vancouver Breakers and Vancouver Whitecaps playing well.

The expansion Storm flew through their PDL season, suffering just two losses en route to the Regular Season Championship. Goalkeeper Lars Hirschfeld was the clear favorite for Goalkeeper of the Year and nearly propelled the club to the title. The Westchester Flames, who finished third the year before did not want any part of the Canadian glory and defeated the Storm 3-1 in Des Moines for the PDL Championship.

With one Canadian dream dashed, the Breakers quickly picked up the flag and continued on a path to the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. The path led the 12-1-1 side to the W-1 Championships in Virginia Beach, but a severe thunderstorm washed away the rejoicing that was to be as the Boston Renegades proved capable of waiting out the two-hour delay that cancelled the Third Place Game and virtually vacated the stadium with no outlook for clear weather. Once the storm broke, however, it was all Boston in a 5-1 game.

Nearly a month later, the Breakers' counterpart squad started their A-League postseason after claiming the regular season Western Conference title and a first round bye with a 16-8-2 mark. The Whitecaps received an early scare falling behind San Diego in the first leg 2-0, but rebounded with a 4-1 win at home. Unfortunately for the Whitecaps, Hershey's vaunted defense and impenetrable goalkeeper were next up. Home field advantage turned horribly against Vancouver, falling at home to the Wildcats in the first leg 4-0, virtually assuring the upcoming elimination in Hershey. Although Vancouver's season was over, the club managed to grab a victory, albeit not enough, with a 1-0 win at Hershey.

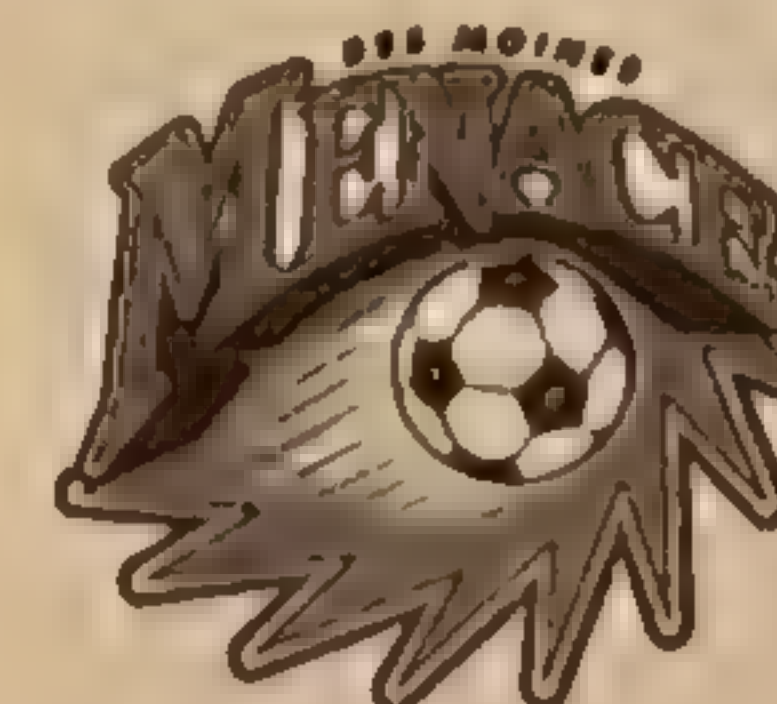

The Rochester Rhinos went on to claim the A-League crown and it was the Charlotte Eagles in their second straight W-2 Final that claimed a championship. The Utah Blitz capped off a remarkable season off with a narrow 1-0 win over the upstart Greenville Lions in the D3 Pro League Championship.

2002... RENEGADES & THE MENACE

Two clubs from USL's amateur leagues dominated the scene in 2002 with the Boston Renegades capturing their second straight W-League championship and the Des Moines Menace recording only the third undefeated season in USL amateur outdoor history in the Premier Development League.

The Renegades torched their opponents over the course of the season for 55 goals, suffering just one loss on the road to the Memphis Mercury, 5-4. Their dominance continued into the postseason, winning the Eastern Conference easily to advance to the W-League Championship tournament in Vancouver. Boston defeated the Denver Lady Cougars 2-1 in the semifinals and shutout the 2001 W-2 champion Charlotte Lady Eagles in the final 3-0 with two goals from Erin O'Grady.

The Menace also cruised through the regular season with a few close games that resulted in three draws on their 15-0-3 record. Des Moines led the league in goals with 68 on the season, 17 more than the second place Tampa Bay Hawks. The 19 goals allowed total also ranked tied for third in the league. Poised for a run for the league title, the Menace were stunned at home 3-1 in the conference semifinals by the Mid Michigan Bucks, who grabbed headlines for their play against higher level opponents in previous years.

The Milwaukee Rampage were the top club in the A-League in 2002, winning the league title and advancing the furthest in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup. Milwaukee defeated the Richmond Kickers 2-1 in double overtime at home for the A-League championship and handed the Chicago Fire a 1-0 loss to become the only USL team to advance to the US Open Cup quarterfinals.

In a neck-and-neck Atlantic Conference race, the Long Island Rough Riders finished first and then advanced to the league semifinals in a 2-2 match against the New York Freedoms decided by penalty kicks (5-2). Long Island then blanked the Connecticut Wolves 3-0 to move on to the final, where they defeated the Wilmington Hammerheads in a 2-1 come-from-behind win on the road.

2003... FINALLY CLAIMING THE PRIZE

The 2003 season saw three of USL's top clubs finally raise their league's championship trophy after years of success while the Cape Cod Crusaders repeated as PDL champions.

The Charleston Battery had been the envy of nearly everyone in the A-League for their pearl of a stadium, Blackbaud - the nation's first privately funded soccer-specific stadium. The club was still missing something to complete the stadium, an A-League championship cup. The Battery finally took care of business in the postseason by downing the perennial power Rochester Rhinos in the conference finals series and defeating the Minnesota Thunder, 3-0, in impressive fashion at Blackbaud in the championship.

The PSL's Wilmington Hammerheads returned to the final for the second straight year and came away victorious at home, where they had fallen the year before. This time, the Hammerheads prevailed, edging the Westchester Flames 2-1 in double overtime on a stormy night at the Legion Sports Complex. Wilmington also saw success in the US Open Cup, reaching the Quarterfinals with an upset win over the A-League's Atlanta Silverbacks, 2-1, and a stunning 4-1 win over the Dallas Burn of MLS. Three days after winning the league title, the club narrowly fell to DC United, 1-0.

The Hampton Roads Piranhas, one of the two inaugural W-League clubs along with Long Island, became only the third W-League team to win the championship with an unbeaten record. The club swept its way through the regular season schedule at 12-0 before playing host to the championship tournament. The Piranhas opened with a 4-1 win over Seattle in the semifinals to face the Chicago Cobras, the last club to go unbeaten on their way to the title, going 15-0 in 2000 before winning in penalty kicks in the final against the Raleigh Wings.

Chicago and Hampton Roads battled to the end of regulation scoreless, sending the championship to overtime. Six minutes into the extra frame, Nigerian National Team forward Mercy Akide struck home the game-winner for Hampton Roads, making them only the second club to win the title with a perfect mark. Raleigh accomplished the feat with a 17-0 record in 1998.

2004... THE BIGGEST YEAR

From start to finish, the year of 2004 may have been the most exciting and eventful in USL history. The season opened with the addition of USL's most unique franchise, the Puerto Rico Islanders of the A-League. Although the Islanders opened the season winless in their first 13 games, their first victory came at the hands of the defending champion Charleston Battery.

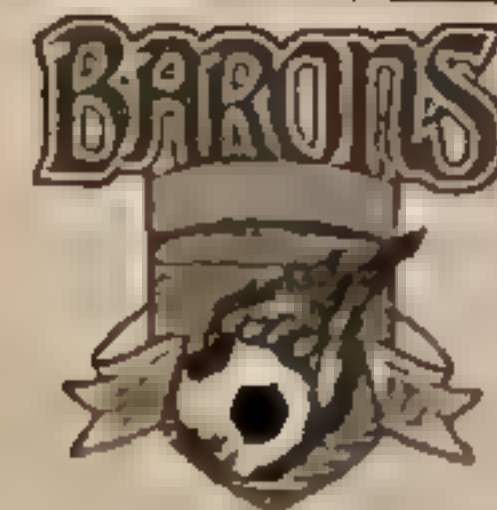

As the season developed, however, it was the amateur leagues grabbing the attention with numerous teams striving for unbeaten seasons. With two and three weeks left in the PDL and W-League seasons, eight teams were poised to finish the 2004 season with zeros in the loss column. No more than two had done it in a season before.

Only three teams in USL amateur men's history have finished the season without a loss dating back to 1989. The Chicago Fire Reserves (14-0-0) and South Jersey Barons (12-0-3) were en route to adding their clubs to a list that includes the Minnesota Thunder, Jackson Chargers and Des Moines Menace.

PDL UNBEATENS

Minnesota Thunder - 1994: 18-0
Jackson Chargers - 1998: 16-0
Des Moines Menace - 2002: 15-0-3
South Jersey Barons - 2004: 14-0-4
Chicago Fire Reserves - 2004: 17-0-1

The bad news, however, for Chicago and South Jersey was that none of the three previous unbeatens went on to win the title. Minnesota and Jackson lost in the final and Des Moines was upset in the first round. They too saw their runs end in the playoffs with losses in their respective conference finals.

Instead, it was the quiet Central Florida Kraze coming up big in the postseason with a 1-0 win over two-time finalist Boulder Rapids Reserve in the championship match.

Six teams were attempting the same in the W-League, which has seen five teams go unbeaten seven times since the league opened play officially in 1995. The Hampton Roads Piranhas (8-0-1), Fort Wayne Fever (6-0-0) and Chicago Cobras (5-0-0) in the Central Conference, the New Jersey Wildcats (9-0-0) and Ottawa Fury (9-0-0) of the Eastern Conference and the Vancouver Whitecaps (9-0-1) of the Western Conference are were alive for the feat, but Chicago, New Jersey and Vancouver were the only ones to take their runs into the postseason.

The defending champion Piranhas saw a 23-game unbeaten streak that ran through the previous year's perfect mark, including the playoffs, come to an end against Charlotte. The Piranhas were chasing Chicago's lengthy run a few years back that stretched 36 regular season games from 1998-2001 and 37 including playoffs from 1999-2001.

Unlike the PDL, the percentage of unbeatens going on to win the title is better in the W-League as three of the seven previous unbeatens won the championship, although the 2000 final pitted two unbeatens in Raleigh and Chicago against one another. It was getting more difficult to reach the final, however, as two of the last three (Boston and Maryland) came up short in the playoffs after the first four made it the distance.

In the 2004 championship, however, perfection was the story as all three unbeatens joined the one-loss Ottawa Fury in the semifinals. The Whitecaps and Wildcats advanced to the final where Vancouver made history in the name of Canada with a penalty kick decision after a scoreless draw that allowed both teams to officially finish unbeaten.

It was a great year for Canada. The Whitecaps became the first Canadian franchise to win the W-League title and the Montreal Impact capped an impressive shutout-record season with the country's second A-League title, winning their second 10 years after winning the 1994 title. The Impact downed the Seattle Sounders 2-0 in the final.

The Canadian success continued at the Super Y-League level where the U13 Boys Vancouver Whitecaps became the first Canadian SYL team to win a North American championship. The squad also carried on the unbeaten theme of the year by capping their 10-0-0 season with a five-game sweep at the finals to be the only SYL team to go unbeaten.

In the Pro Soccer League, the Utah Blitz completed their final season in glory before making way for the new MLS Real Salt Lake franchise, winning their second league title with a 5-4 penalty kick tiebreaker against the host Charlotte Eagles after a 2-2 draw.

The year closed out with the announcement of the restructuring of the USL professional leagues to the USL First Division and USL Second Division with single tables and primarily balanced schedules.

Greg Sutton tied the league record in shutouts with 16 on the season to earn the league MVP honor (Pepe)
